HANOI ALLEGES ATTACK

Words Like Tonkin Crisis

. . . U.S., ALLIES CHARGED

Tokyo (AP)—Communist North Viet Nam charged Friday, in language reminiscent of the Tonkin Gulf crisis, that warplanes and naval craft of the United States "and its agents" attacked parts of the southernmost province of Quang Binh Wednesday.

The implicaion was that the agents were Laos and South Viet Nam.

Confirmation was lacking. U.S. defense officials in Washington said they had received no word of any such attacks. A state department spokesman said a preliminary check turned up no facts to support the North Vietnamese accusations.

North of Waist

Radio Hanoi broadcast the charges, quoting a foreign ministry spokesman of Ho Chi Minh's Red regime. Citing areas just north of the demilitarized zone that divides Viet Nam at its narrow waist, the radio said:

"At 1000 hours (a.m.) of Oct. 26, 1964, three jet planes and five T28 aircraft of the United States, coming from the direction of Laos, bombed and rocketed the Cha Lo frontier post . . . in Quang Binh province at a place two kilometers (1.2 miles) from the Viet Nam-Laos border.

"At 2300 hours (11 p.m.) of the same day, three naval craft of the United States and its agents, sailing from South Viet Nam, intruded into the territorial waters of the Democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam, shelled the coastal areas of Quang Binh province and subsequently fled."

The broadcast did not say exactly what coastal areas were hit or specify the types of naval craft allegedly involved.

The province's chief city on the Gulf of Tonkin is Donghoi, the provincial capital which is 35 miles north of the line.

'Brazen Acts'

No mention was made of any casualties or damage, but the reported incidents were denounced as brazen acts of aggression that "constitute most serious violations of the 1954 Geneva agreements on Viet Nam and the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos."

The United States has some jet planes in South Viet Nam, where it is backing a war against Communist Viet Cong guerrillas. It has supplied T28 fighter-bombers to both South Viet Nam and Laos.

Radio Hanoi said the foreign ministry "strongly denounces and protests against the above-mentioned acts of provocation of the United States and its agents vis-a-vis the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam and demands that they put an immediate end to such adventurous acts."

Scheme

Citing the attack by U. S. planes Aug. 5 on North Vietnamese PT boats and bases, it said the incidents Wednesday "prove the U.S. imperialists are still carrying on provocations . . . in an attempt to carry out their scheme to expand the war to North Viet Nam, in complete defiance of international law and world public opinion."

The Aug. 5 raids were in retaliation for attacks by North Vietnamese PT boats on U.S. destroyers cruising the gulf. Two of the planes were shot down. One of the pilots, Lt. (jg) Everett Alvarez Jr. of Santa Clara, Calif., was captured.

On Sept. 18, two U.S. destroyers were reported again in action in the Tonkin Gulf. Washington said the destroyers fired on what they believed to be attacking torpedo boats.

Cambodia Backed

North Viet Nam has been backing a propaganda campaign by Cambodia against U.S. and South Vietnamese armed forces trying to wipe out communist guerrilla bases along the Cambodian frontier.

The North Vietnamese train and supply those guerrillas.

The Hanoi government announced Wednesday it supports a demand by Cambodia, presented at the United Nations in New York, for an end to "the acts of war" by the United States and South Viet Nam.

LBJ SAYS HELLO . . . to Julie Gill, 12, at Wichita; he had invited her to White House.

Soviet Message 'Heartens' LBJ

Wichita, Kan. (AP)—President Johnson said here Thursday that he had received heartening assurance from the new Soviet premier that he would seek better relations with the West.

In a speech in Salt Lake City in which he stressed a foreign policy of caution and restraint coupled with strength, Johnson for the first time disclosed the tone of a message he received this week from premier Alexei Kosygin.

To Go On Taling

He said the Soviet government would maintain its present policies and would seek relations—and maintain its own search for peace—with the West," Johnson said.

"He said that the Soviet Union would continue its communication with the United States — and would continue to explore areas of mutual interest."

"This is heartening . . ."

A crowd estimated at 8,000 gave Johnson prolonged applause when he said America must maintain its military might "as a deterrent to others and as a requirement to defend ourselves," adding:

"We intend to bury no one, but we don't intend to be buried either."

In Philadelphia later Thursday, the President said Tuesday's election returns "will prove to all in this land . . . there is not going to be another crack in the Liberty Bell."

Role Of Clergy

He told cheering partisans at a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner that he strongly defends the idea that clergymen have a proper role in political campaigns—a proposition questioned by Barry Goldwater.

"Religion has always, and religion must always, play a part in all that we do and all that we hope to do," Johnson said.

"I hope that the day will never come when any man and any cause will try to keep religion out of our national decisions on who shall lead us or the directions we shall go."

"I do not condemn our churches or our clergymen for being concerned that America meets her moral responsibilities for peace, for preserving human freedom and human life, for doing what a rich nation can and should do to wipe poverty from our land. I not only don't condemn them, I thank God for their courage."

—DISTRICT I—

NSEA Elects Colgan

Francis Colgan of Lincoln Thursday was elected president of District I of the Nebraska State Education Assn. at its annual two-day session in Lincoln.

He succeeds Mildred Waide of Lincoln.

Named president-elect for the coming year is Mrs. Mildred Conkling of Hebron.

Other new officers elected Thursday were: Mrs. Gladys Sorensen of Lincoln, secretary; Mrs. Faye Glass of Crete, treasurer, and Allen Friesen of Henderson, and Lewis Patrick of Fairbury, members of the executive committee.

Morrison, Burney Discuss Responsibilities And Record

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison and Republican Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney met in a live radio-televisoon debate Thursday night which concentrated on state revenue and responsibilities, and the Morrison record.

"The main issue is our record," the two-term Democratic governor declared.

"The overriding issue is whether we want a Republican governor who can work with our senators and congressmen, or a Democratic governor tied to President Johnson and Senator Humphrey," Burney said.

Countered

Morrison countered that President Johnson will be elected to a full term next week, "and it is important to have a governor who will work with him."

The governor said he has worked with senators and congressmen from both parties in the Midwest bloc, and that party label is not "too important" for a Nebraska governor since he must work with a non-partisan Legislature.

Burney pointed to alleged deficiencies in the Morrison record, declaring that employment in the state has sagged by 8,100 in the past year, that the governor failed to support the Hruska amendment limiting beef imports, that Morrison has traveled too much "when he should have been on the job."

Morrison said agricultural employment has decreased, "but there has been a big increase in industrial employment."

The governor said he did support action limiting beef imports and his administration proposed a number of recommendations to assist the domestic cattle market.

"Nobody can be an adequate governor without traveling the state and selling Nebraska both to people within and without," Morrison said.

Burney said he has long favored adoption of a sales tax because "instead of federal aid, we should take care of these things (state needs) on our own."

Continued dependence on the property tax system will mean that "we will not be able to do what we should do in many areas," he said.

"We ought not to expand or increase" federal programs, Burney declared.

At Least 10%

Morrison said it would take a sales tax of at least 10% to replace federal aid programs and the state property tax. Replacement of the state property tax "would not mean any real reduction in the property tax" because most of it is levied on the local (especially school district) level, he said.

Morrison said he favors a proposal whereby the federal government would "allocate back to the states funds" for education purposes "where we really need the revenue."

Sales tax revenue could be used to replace some property tax at the school district level, Burney countered.

ETV Council To Seek Expanded Commission

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislative Council Educational Television Study Committee agreed Thursday it will recommend to the 1965 Legislature that the Nebraska Educational Television commission be enlarged to include four additional members.

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, study committee chairman, announced the group's recommendations after the Thursday afternoon excevutive session at which it concluded its interim study.

The NETV Commission, now composed of nine members, is charged with the responsibility of establishing and operating the Nebraska ETV network.

Lay Persons

Under the legislative committee's recommendation, the commission would be expanded to 13 members. The four new members, all of whom would be lay persons, would be named from the state's four old congressional districts.

In its only other recommendation, Klaver said, a majority of the committee asked that the NETV Commission adhere strictly to provisions of the NETV Act, emphasizing particularly requirements that NETV be non-commercial, and that its facilities not be misused.

In this latter respect, the legislative committee called attention to sub-section 13 of the NETV Act which provides that it shall be the commission's duty "to make certain that said facilities are not used for any purpose which is contrary to the Constitution of the United States or the State of Nebraska, or for broadcasting propaganda, or attempting to influence legislation."

'Decisions' Hit

At a public hearing Thursday afternoon, committee members heard protests from two persons about a series of programs entitled "Great Decisions," which has been telecast over ETV Channel 12 in Lincoln.

D. F. Beam of Omaha told the committee the program has been cited in some quarters as being "not in the best interests of American traditions," and said he objected to use of the taxpayers' money for such programs.

Don Llenemann of Papillion showed the committee a copy of a telegram signed "Herbert A. Philbrick," which said the 'Great Decisons' program is "loaded with the most subtle pro-Soviet propaganda I have ever seen."

'Half-Truths'

Lienemann said, "Philbrick, who was a counterspy for the Federal Bureau of Investigation for eight years, is closer to this problem than anyone else I know."

These statements were countered by Bernard R. Gyger of Omaha, administrative assistant to the superintendent of Omaha public schools, who cautioned the committee should beware of "biased, confusing material and half-truths."

He noted the NETV Commission "sets policy for what is broadcast," and that it is composed of "nine capable people representative of the entire state," who employ a "competent staff to carry out its policies."

During its morning hearing the committee heard an ETV progress report from Jack McBride, NETV Commission secretary.

Opportunity

He stated the 1965 Legislature will have the opportunity to judge for itself the effectiveness of the ETV system because Channel 12 should be operating at Mead by mid-December if the construction schedule is met.

It will provide ETV services to more than 50% of Nebraska's population. He also stated that Channel 3 at Lexington should be in operation by May, 1965, and Channel 16 at Omaha should be operating by next summer.

The NETV Commission will ask for $2.3 million in its 1965-67 budget to complete the seven-station network throughout the state, he said.

Barry Accusations Endorsed By GOP

Pittsburgh (AP)—More than 16,000 Republicans at a rally here gave Sen. Barry Goldwater a tumultuous welcome Thursday night and roared approval as he accused the Johnson administration of a "shabby code of conduct."

Gov. William Scranton, an unsuccessful candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, had whipped up the crowd's enthusiasm with a shouting reaffirmation of his and the state administration's support of Goldwater.

Like the crowd in Madison Square Garden that gave Goldwater a 28-minute ovation Monday, this one was strictly partisan.

As a brassy band tried vainly to beat out its marches and battle hymns over the cheers, Goldwater stood on the speaker's platform face wreathed in smiles turning full circle time and again to acknowledge the reception.

17-Minutes

The ovation lasted 17 minutes.

Goldwater cited the case of Otto Otepka, former State Department security officer, saying Otepka was relieved of his duties because he testified before a congressional committee on State Department security practices.

"Taken alone, the treatment of Otepka is bad enough," Goldwater said in a speech to a rally in the civic arena.

"When it is viewed in the context of the coverup of the Bobby Baker matter, the Billie Sol Estes matter and the casual reaction to the Jenkins affair, it is indeed a sordid picture," Goldwater said and added:

"What can we expect at lower levels in government if this is the shabby code of conduct that prevails at the Cabinet level, in the State Department and in the White House?"

He charged that Secretary of State Dean Rusk has "coddled the liars, the wire-tappers, the brutal abusers of government power who tried to railroad Otepka."

'Still Friends'

At Greensburg, he told a group of youngsters holding LBJ signs he appreciated the manner in which they opposed him, no heckling.

"It is gentlemanly like," he declared. "It's the American way of life . . . the way to get our story across.

"For instance, I've argued with Lyndon Johnson on the floor of the Senate, off the floor, in his office and mine, and we still can call ourselves friends."

Two Die At Missile Site

Two men, one civilian and one airman, were killed Thursday afternoon in an accident at the Atlas missile site at Eagle.

The victims were identified as Homer E. Newcomb Jr., about 28, and Air Force S. Sgt. Gerald T. McEntee, 29.

The men were performing maintenance operations on equipment and were apparently overcome by fumes, according to Lincoln Air Force Base officials.

A base spokesman said the exact nature of the accident would be released after details were learned concerning the accident.

A board of qualified officers has been appointed to investigate the mishap.

Sgt. McEntee, whose local address was 4211 Hamilton St., is survived by his wife, Sandra J., and two-year-old son, James. His home address was listed as Philadelphia.

Newcomb, a civilian employe of the Oklahoma City Air Materiel Area, is survived by his wife and two children, of 3016 S.E. 21st St., Oklahoma City, Okla.

'American Ships Not Involved'

Washington (AP)—The State and Defense Departments said Thursday that no American ships were involved in any incident like that reported by the Communist North Viet Nam radio.

Spokesmen said:

"No U.S. vessels were involved in any incidents of the sort described by (Radio) Hanoi.

"There are no U.S. naval vessels in the area in which the incidents are alleged to have occured."

At the Pentagon, Arthur Sylvester, chief of information, was asked if any allied nation might have been involved.

Sylvester said, "I have no knowledge of it." but added that he would check further.

Sylvester was asked about the Hanoi charge that jet aircraft were involved in air attacks. He replied only that "those are allegations" by the Reds.

Secret Document Says K Bungled Cuba Crisis

Moscow (UPI)—A hitherto unpublished Kremlin document accuses Nikita S. Khrushchev of bunging the 1962 Cuban missile crisis and of driving relations with Communist China to the point of rupture, informed Communist sources said Thursday night.

In a document being circulated secretly to Communist Party officials throughout the Soviet Union, sweeping charges are brought against the former premier for failures in foreign affairs, agriculture, and industry.

He is accused of favoring his relatives, trying to elevate his wife Nina into a position of power and fostering a cult of personality.

First In Detail

The document, spelling out the reasons for Khrushchev's dramatic ouster as party chief and premier 15 days ago, is the first detailed indictment of the disgraced former leeder to come to light.

The sources said there would be no official confirmation that the document exists.

Khrushchev has held fully responsible for the plummet in Soviet prestige when the Soviets were forced to withdraw missiles from Cuba under pressure exerted by the late President Kennedy.

Insults To Face

The document accuses Khrushchev of worsening the conflict with Communist China by insulting Peking officials to their face and trying to force Moscow's allies to accept a Chinese policy with which they disagreed.

Literally dozens of charges are filed against Khrushchev in the secret broadside. They include:

—Mishandling Soviet reaction to the 1956 Suez Canal invasion by Britain, France and Israel.

-Falsely boasting to visiting Japanese lawmakers last month of a "doomsday" Soviet weapon.

-Giving a $280 million loan and a Hero of the Soviet Union medal—the country's highest honor—to United Arab Republic President Abdel Gamal Nasser without consulting the Presidium.

—Such "unworthy actions" as banging his shoe on a desk at the 1960 United Nations General Assembly session and bickering with his hosts —apparently Swedish government officials—during his recent Scandinavian tour.

—Failing to get the Soviet Union's Eastern European partners—the member nations of Comecon—to adopt a joint five-year integrated plan for the years 1966-1970.

—Trying to foist his own ideas on the East European regimes, such as by telling the Romanians what farm products to grow. This, the document says, stirred friction between Khrushchev and Romanian leader Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej.

—Taking foreign policy from the hands of the foreign ministry and even bypassing the Presidium and the Central Committee in Foreign affairs. As an example, the document notes that he sent his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei—ousted editor of Izvestia—on a tour of West Germany this summer.

—Being easy to anger, intolerant of others, and indulging in some "personality cult" evils reminiscent of the late Josef Stalin.

Light Industry

--Pouring money into light industry at the expense of heavy industry, to the detriment of the Soviet steel industry.

--Halting the reduction of income taxes in 1962, thereby causing widespread discontent among Russian citizens.

—Making so many mistakes in national economic planning that—for the first time—the country had to issue a two-year budget for the years 1964 and 1965.

—Unjustified intrusions into Soviet cultural life, causing unrest in artistic circles. This presumably referred to Khrushchev's campaign against abstract painting.

Near Disaster

In domestic affairs, the fallen Soviet leader was accused of causing near-disaster by splitting the party organization in 1962 into separate industrial and agricultural sections.

He was castigated as well for his policy of opening up the virgin lands for cultivation, and then allowing the project to fail.

The detailed indictment against Khrushchev was disclosed as Soviet leaders' successfully concluded an attempt to persuade a French Communist Party delegation that the shakeup in the Kremlin had been merited.

Earlier Thursday the new Soviet leaders had launched a public attack on Khrushchev in an official publication, while Communist sources behind the scenes disclosed that Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky had played an important part in Khrushchev's overthrow.

Rusk—U.S. Not Crying Over Ouster

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Thursday U.S. leaders are not shedding any tears over the toppling of Nikita Khrushchev.

He said the nation's leaders have never accepted the theory that Khrushchev's deposers might turn out to be far harder to deal with than Khrushchev.

"He may have been an affable grandfather at 70," Rusk said. "But at 68½ he put missiles in Cuba. We don't believe anyone reforms between 68½ and 70, and I don't think you do."

Rusk wound up a two-day Houston visit with a speech at the Downtown Rotary Club where he said this country has to "hope for the best and be prepared for whatever comes—or as President Johnson put it—let our guard be up, but let our hand be out."

Nobels To American, Reds For Maser-Laser Findings

. . . CHEMISTRY PRIZE TO BRITISH WOMAN

Stockholm, Sweden (AP)—The 1964 Nobel physics prize was awarded jointly Thursday to an American and two Russians for basic contributions to discovery of the maser-laser effect, a fabulous harnessing of radio and light beams to serve mankind.

Mrs. Hodgkin

The Royal Swedish Academy of Science directed that half of the $53,123 prize money go to Dr. Charles H. Townes, 49, provost of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The rest goes to Prof. Nikolay Basov, 42, and Prof. Aleksander Prokhorov, 48, of the Soviet Science Academy's Lebedev Institute in Moscow.

Death Ray

Possible uses of the beams in physics, communications, medicine and surgery appear almost unlimited. The laser also is reputed to have potential value as a military death ray.

Winding up Nobel awards for the year, the Swedish academy named Prof. Dorothy Crowfoot Hodgkin, a British biochemist, for the $52,123 chemistry prize.

Mrs. Hodgkin, 54, was cited for X-ray studies that determined the structures of important biochemical compounds, including B12 and penicillin.

Independent Work

Townes and the Russians, who pursued their work independently, received the joint prize "for basic research in the quantum electronics field which had led to the construction of oscillators and amplifiers according to the maser-laser principle."

Maser is a contraction of microwave amplification by stimulated emission of radiation. Laser stands for light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation.

Maser-laser techniques are expected to revolutionize future communications, possibly enabling transmission of 10 million simultaneous television programs via a single beam. Maser may amplify radio waves so strongly as to enable communication with other solar systems.

Can Light Moon

A laser beam can light up an area of 200 by 200 yards on the moon surface. It may also be used for future communications between spacecraft.

The laser beam already has found uses in medicine, so far tentatively, in eye surgery and dental surgery.

But the laser also can be concentrated so strongly that it can burn a hole instantly through a diamond or the strongest steelplate. Thus it has attracted strong military interest as a future means to destroy nuclear missiles.

Basov Prokhorov

In chemistry, Mrs. Hodgkin was cited "for her determination by X-ray techniques of the structures of important biochemical substances."

She is an Oxford University research professor and the first woman to be elected a fellow of the Royal Society at Oxford.

She is the first female Nobel winner in chemistry since Irene Joliot-Curie shared the prize with her husband, Fredric Joliot, in 1935.

Townes At Work On Way To Make Sound Destructive

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Charles H. Townes said Thursday he now is working on a way to make sound waves destructive.

Townes called his new experimental device a phonon maser. He said it produces extremely high frequency sound waves — up to six billion cycles per sound, enough to shatter the piece of glass or crystal in which they are generated.

Townes said his new phonon maser uses light to excite the atoms of certain materials in such a way that high frequency sound is generated.

The small, blue-eyed scientist, now 49, said the idea for the maser came to him while he was sitting on a park bench in Washington in 1951, "surrounded by the fragrance of azaleas."

He went back to his laboratory and three years later produced his first working maser.

Indonesians Give Up

Sungei Rambai, Malaysia (AP)—A ragtag band of guerrillas surrendered to a strong Commonwealth military task force Friday, putting an effective end to Indonesia's latest armed raid on Malaysia's mainland.

Twenty five of the raiders emerged from swampy jungles where they had spent the night, pinned down by Australian and New Zealand troops, and gave themselves up.

The surrenders brought to 50 the number of prisoners taken in less than 36 hours after the guerrillas landed by sea near this southwest coastal village in Malacca state.

The only firing occurred during the night when the guerrillas made several vain attempts to break through the cordon of troops that trapped them in a small area of tangled mangrove thickets and deep mud.

Ike Leaves Hospital, Knew Of No Jenkins-Like Problem

Washington (UPI)—Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower said Thursday he knew of no "problem" during his administration that was similar to the Walter Jenkins episode.

President Johnson told a news conference in San Diego Wednesday that Eisenhower once "had the same type of problem" with one of his appointees as Johnson faced with Jenkins.

The latter resigned as presidential aide after it was disclosed he had been arrested twice on morals charges.

Eisenhower, leaving Walter Reed Army Medical Center Thursday after a week's treatment for bronchial trouble, said Johnson's remark was "very interesting."

Declaring that he knew of nothing comparable to the Jenkins case, he asked reporters:

"Can you give me any names?"

No names were volunteered. Johnson did not give a name either.

Bethlehem Profits Up In New Steel Price Debate

New York (AP)—Bethlehem Steel Corp. reported Thursday its highest profits since 1957 amid new government-business debate on steel prices.

Edmund F. Martin, chairman of the No. 2 steelmaking firm, told newsmen he wasn't satisfied with the profit showing, but he steadfastly refused to say anything about prices.

Martin indicated three months ago he would welcome higher prices. He did not specifically advocate them then.

LBJ Would Frown

President Johnson, said to be concerned about keeping the economy on an upward but uninflationary course, has let it be known that he would frown on a steel price rise.

The word from the President—reiterating earlier views—came after Roger M. Blough, U.S. Steel Corp. chairman, said market conditions were being "continuously appraised," and other steelmen said higher prices were needed to enlarge profits.

Bethlehem said July-September earnings jumped 105% —to $36,269,536 or 76 cents a share from $17,628,734 or 35 cents a share in the like 1963 period, a draggy quarter in the steel business.

For the first nine months, the gain was 58%—to $104,928,160 or $2.20 a share from $66,329,145 or $1.35 a share in the year earlier period.

Wage Concern

The new Johnson pronouncement was credited with reflecting concern about upward pressure on wages in forthcoming steel industry talks that would result from a price rise.

The upward price-wage spiral presumably then would ripple through the whole economy.

Teachers Conventions Under Way Over State

By The Associated Press

A lecturer and educator, Dr. Harold Taylor, told school teachers and administrators at Kearney Thursday that educational conservatives are striving for a "managerial elite" to lead the nation.

He said the conservative approach is for a more selective education system based on rewards for the talented.

By Taylor's definition, educational liberals believe in equal opportunity for all students.

He spoke before the joint Districts 4 and 5 conventions of the Nebraska State Education Association at Kearney.

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon spoke to the group Thursday night.

About 2,000 attended the opening session at Kearney but another 1,500 were expected to register for the two day meeting, one of five being held in the state.

Politics At Work

Political activity marked the opening of the District 2 convention in Omaha.

As teachers arrived at the Music Hall entrance to the city auditorium about a dozen persons passed out literature in support of Amendment 300—the proposal calling for election of a state commissioner of education and appointment of the state board, reversal of the present system.

Don Lienemann of Papillion charged that spokesmen in favor of the proposal have not been allowed to give their views at Parent Teacher Association meetings in Omaha Bellevue and "generally across Nebraska."

Mrs. M. N. Mitchell, wife of an Omahan running for the legislature, helped pass out the literature.

"We feel people should hear both sides and then make a decision on their own," Lienemann said.

A former U.S. education commissioner Thursday urged against children being put into a "school straightjacket" by teachers who do all the talking and make pupils afraid to speak out.

Children are "much sharper than we give them credit for being," Dr. Lawrence Derthick told the Omaha convention. Properly taught, they will learn to know the difference between fact and rumor and will see "the image of democracy in all its glory."

"Children will have such zeal that by the 11th or 12th grade, they will work night and day for several months on an intellectual project," he said.

At Chadron, 1,484 registered for the District 6 convention, about 100 more than a year ago.

On the evening schedule was a talk by Chester H. Lauck, the onetime "Lum" of the "Lum and Abner" radio team and a football game between Chadron State College and St. Mary's of the Plains, a Dodge City, Kan., school.

Teachers balloted Thursday on new officers. Nominated for District 6 president were Hugh Pursel, superintendent at Gordon, and W. G. Hasemeyer, Chappell superintendent.

No Political Ruckus Expected At Dedication Of Wilber P.O.

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Wilber — Democratic and Republican officials alike are scheduled to help dedicate the year-old post office here this afternoon — and apparently without political ruckus.

Anticipated for platform appearances are Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison and two GOP incumbents likewise up for re-election, Sen. Roman Hruska and Rep. Ralph Beermann. Postmaster Milo T. Jelinek said there has been no criticism from either party and "all seems to be going smoothly."

Beatrice Controversy

Governor Morrison's role as principal speaker at Beatrice's post office groundbreaking had sparked a controversy echoing statewide last week. Republican officials refused to participate after county GOP chairman Merrell Andersen said protocol should have landed Hruska the speaking spot.

Jelinek neatly side-stepped any speaker furor by inviting regional postal director Charles W. Shoemake for the official dedicatory address. Programs for the 3 p.m. ceremony schedule "comments" by Morrison and Hruska, presentation of a new flag by Beermann.

"I feel that both the governor and Congressional members should be present, regardless of political affiliation," said Jelinek. "I did try to lay stepping stones to avoid any trouble."

Originally planned several months ago, the dedication was delayed repeatedly because of adjacent street construction and conflicting dates.

Joe Vosoba is scheduled to be master of ceremonies, Mayor Irvin Beck and Chamber of Commerce manager Walter Baer also appearing on the program. An open house will follow the ceremony.

Verdigre Farmer Dies In Mishap

Verdigre (AP)—Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday for Tom Lloyd, about 55, a farmer north of Verdigre, killed in an accident Wednesday. Lloyd was mounting a loader on a tractor when it slipped and struck him as he stood between the seat of the tractor and the loader.

Romans Selected Truckers' Officer

Los Angeles (AP)—The American Trucking Association elected Jack Romans of Ord, Neb., as a vice president at large Thursday. Romans is the owner of the Romans Motor Freight of Ord.

He formerly was a vice president representing the state of Nebraska on the association's executive committee.

Colorado Crash Kills Nebraskan

Craig, Colo. (AP)—A 21-year-old Columbus, Neb., man was killed Thursday when his car and a tractor-trailer collided head-on about five miles east of here, in northwestern Colorado.

The State Patrol identified him as Herbert Adair Schafer.

Two passengers in Schafer's car were injured. They are James Carl Lovell, 21, of Greenville, S.C., and John Hay Johnson, 29, of Mankato, Minn. Both were hospitalized at Craig.

The patrol said the car, driven by Schafer, strayed into the wrong lane of Colorado 2 and collided with a truck driven by William Mick Cunningham, 30, of Montgomery, Tex. Cunningham suffered minor injuries.

Cunningham Out Of Hospital Friday

Omaha (AP) — Rep. Glenn Cunningham, R-Neb., will be released from Clarkson Hospital Friday.

Cunningham was hospitalized late last week for what doctors said was hypoglycemia—a drop in sugar in the blood.

He said he would not return to a heavy campaign schedule.

One Youth Dead, Second Hurt As Car Overturns And Burns

Gibbon (AP) — Robert M. Foster, 19, of Woodside, Calif., was killed Thursday and his companion injured when their light foreign-made convertible left Interstate 80 and overturned, catching fire.

Nebraska Safety Patrolman Robert Rhodes said Foster's companion, Paul Smith, 18, of Millbrae, Calif., suffered severe lacerations and was hospitalized. Smith was not believed in serious condition, however.

Rhodes said the light car drifted off the highway about one-half mile east of the Gibbon interchange, struck a heavy concrete signpost, flipped into the air and rolled over. The car caught fire.

Witnessed Crash

Al Schoenthal of Holdrege and Jim Scarborough of Kearney, who were traveling in the same direction in a boom truck, said the car passed them at a moderate rate of speed and in a few moments saw the car flying through the air. They quickly attached their boom to the car and removed the occupants.

Rhodes said the two boys were enroute to New York planning to travel abroad. He said Smith told him they had stopped to sleep in the car a short distance west of Kearney and had just resumed their trip. He said he was asleep in the passenger's seat when the accident occurred.

What You Make It

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Not much time goes by in Mississippi without a church bombing, a shooting or some other act of violence in protest to integration. In many parts of our land, there are division and anger over the civil rights issue. It is seen in a great variety of ways such as housing, employment, public accommodations, etc., but it is always the same regardless of the specific issue involved and the form it takes.

It is always a basic human indifference to the rights of others, a refusal to recognize the common denominator of society as opposed to the distinctions of race, creed or color. None of these latter things is that which makes a man or woman what he or she is but they are too often the superficial grounds on which some people make their judgment of others. These careless and thoughtless people do not want to look beyond that which they can see with their own two eyes. They do not want to examine the hearts and minds of their fellow men to see if there is something under the surface to be admired and respected.

Eyes Closed In Bias

But fortunately, there are many exceptions to this blind kind of prejudice. One such exception took place this week in Alamo, Calif., where a Negro family moved into an all-white neighborhood. The family made its move with great anxiety because it had received the usual threats of violence if it went ahead with its plans.

The family was a well known one, baseball star Curt Flood, his wife and four children. When first they saw their white neighbors gathered together, they probably wondered what was about to happen. Perhaps they automatically steeled themselves for the abuse they had come to expect from so many quarters. What they received was something quite different.

★

When it was over, Mrs. Flood was in tears—not tears of sorrow or hurt but tears of joy at the friendly reception given her family by her new neighbors. The neighbors had gathered, not to harass the Floods, but to welcome them into the neighborhood. They had even prepared a meal for all to enjoy that first night. Anyone who has moved knows that moving day is a disrupting thing and meals are something that go by the wayside. The preparing of a meal for the Floods, therefore, was a gesture of courtesy, consideration and welcome that was most impressive. The baseball player's family would have moved in regardless of what the neighbors had done but what a difference it has made and will continue to make that the move was marked with such good will.

The neighbors might have stayed away altogether or they might have gathered to show their dislike for the new family moving in. The consequences of this would have been bitterness and anxiety with which all in the area would have had to live. It would have produced hatreds and fear, even among the children who have not yet learned much about these less desirable and unwanted human emotions. The families of such a neighborhood not only cannot live peacefully with each other, they cannot live at peace with themselves. Even within the confines of their own homes, there are the heavy weight and influence of attitudes that destroy the normal patterns of human behavior.

This is a part of the unfortunate nature of emotions that have gotten out of hand. When individuals let their prejudices run away with them, they find they cannot confine the damage to any certain time or place. They are not angry and mean for eight hours out of the day and then suddenly an example of kindness and consideration.

Once the venom of indignity has begun to run, it is like the sap flowing from a maple tree on a frosty day in Vermont. From the sap comes an endless variety of delightful things for the abundant tables that are so characteristic of the American scene. That is one kind of sap. There is another kind of sap, too, known as a simpleton.

It is this latter kind of sap who opens his heart and mind to evil and finds he cannot close the wound. For him, life is an endless storm of controversy and disagreement. He may well have succeeded in making life miserable for someone else but he cannot escape the same fate for himself. Even his own friends and family find that he has fallen victim to a breakdown of his reason. They find that prejudice on a racial basis only brings more actively to the front an imbalance of values and sensitivities that can run rampant once it has been unleashed.

Bogged Down In Same Mire

In the Alamo, Calif., neighborhood where the baseball player and his family have moved in, they are not the only ones who enjoyed a restful sleep that first evening. Other members of the neighborhood had made for themselves, too, a situation with which they could live. They had created tranquility where there might well have been only unrest and suspicion. They made for themselves a good life as well as helping others to the same thing.

The ETV Budget

Jack McBride, secretary of the Nebraska Educational Television Commission, has made a budget request calling for $2.3 million to complete the establishment of the state's new educational television network.

This is almost three times the provision of $600,000 by the last legislature to get the program started. McBride said three fourths of that budget has been spent in establishing the first three broadcasting stations. The $2.3 million appropriation is needed for the construction of the final four stations. After that we will be in business permanently. A service of inestimable value will blanket the state.

This much can be said for the commission. It has solved a series of difficult problems. It has got the big dollar's worth for what it has already built. It has taken a constructive and enlightened attitude toward its task. It is fulfilling its purpose with dispatch. It deserves the appropriation it is asking.

In tax conscious times such as these a request for $2.3 million for a new service takes on exaggerated size. But actually a capital outlay of $3 million amounts to less than $2 per capita for Nebraskans in a four year period. We don't know how Nebraska can buy so much educational improvement for such a low price.

It will be a wise legislature that takes this budget request in stride.

The state at this time has three stations in the works. One at Mead will go on the air in December. One at Lexington is to be activated in May. The third, an Omaha station, will go on the air by mid 1965.

Two more years should see the completion of the final four stations which will assure service to all of Nebraska.

The Canadian Row

Every federation of states at times has trouble with its members. We are no exception even though we have succeeded in Americanizing all comers, even to tradition and language.

Our neighbor Canada, commonly accepted as a trouble free commonwealth, has never been able to make friends with the French element in Quebec. The French there even today want independence. Long, long ago they were heartily sick of the British. Then, when Canada became an independent member of the Commonwealth, they transferred their dislike to English speaking Canada.

It is an old story. It inspired the poem, Evangeline, by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, which told of the wanderings of the displaced Acadians who finally settled in the Teche country on the Louisiana gulf. That's one the British tried to solve by kicking out the Canadian French.

But today's story has a different twist.

Tired of hearing about French Canadian secession, the premier of Saskatchewan province recently asserted that if it ever took place, Saskatchewan would abandon Canada and join the United States.

We don't know what that did to the French Canadians, but it stunned the United States.

Canadians are noted for their loyalty to Canada. We get along with them fine by respecting that loyalty. But we have a long memory and can recall that Canadian loyalty is as old as Canada and it was that way in our early struggles with the British. We never got to first base trying the wean Canadians away from the Canadian tradition.

One is always ready to move over and make room for a good neighbor, but don't count on this one. There are too many Canadians in Saskatchewan.

New Courthouse Needed

Tuesday's voters will decide the fate of a proposed new County Courthouse as they pass judgment on a $2.6 million general obligation bond issue. Now approaching the century mark, the old Courthouse at 10th and J is an antiquated structure that fails in all respects to meet the demands of modern government.

The voter will be wondering about many aspects of this question when he goes to the polls but he can hardly doubt that a new Courthouse is needed. Only if he wants a combined city-county building at 15th and O should he vote against this bond issue.

But a combined building may or may not be the answer to the city's and county's future. It has not worked too well in some other areas and it is not difficult to conceive of many conflicts developing if the two governments were under the same roof.

This newspaper strongly favors 15th and O as the site of a new City Hall and feels that a favorable vote on the Courthouse bond issue could further this end. It would not guarantee anything in regard to the City Hall, of course, but it would clear the air.

There is no doubt that voters will have a chance to express themselves on a new City Hall at the 1965 elections. They can then make it clear whether they want a new city building at 15th and O.

If such is not their decision, the city could still enter into a cooperative arrangement with the county for perhaps an adjoining structure at 10th and J. In short, the proposed county bond issue would satisfy an urgent need while not closing the door to a number of other possible future developments. On that basis, it merits the support of voters on Tuesday.

Roosevelt Gets The Cold Shoulder

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Four years ago when a senator from Texas named Lyndon B. Johnson was campaigning for vice president he arrived at Jacksonville airport and found it almost deserted. Only one faithful Democrat was out to meet him — B. L. Brown.

This week when the same Lyndon Johnson arrived at the same airport as president of the United States, several thousand were out to meet him and more than 40,000 jammed in Hemming Park to hear him speak.

However, the one man who had come out to greet Johnson four years ago, was not among the invited guests. All sorts of dignitaries crammed the bandstand behind the President and were introduced to take a bow. But Johnson's earlier, faithful rooter was not among them. Local leaders crossed him off the list.

☆ ☆ ☆

In 1937, when a young Texan named Johnson wanted to get aboard the special train of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, en route through Texas from Arkansas Pass, he phoned Elliott Roosevelt.

"I'm running in a special election for Congress down here," the young Texan said, "and I need your help. If I can get aboard your father's train it will be a big boost."

Elliott got young Johnson aboard the Roosevelt train and he was elected to congress to fill the unexpired term of Rep. James Buchanan. That began LBJ's real start in politics.

Earlier, Elliott and Lyndon Johnson had become acquainted while speaking at a political rally in Texas in the 1932 election. Subsequently, Elliott introduced Lyndon to his father, who appointed the gangling young Texan National Youth Administrator for Texas.

☆ ☆ ☆

"During the war," recalls Elliott, "I was home on leave when father was trying to decide what to do about some of the congressmen who were on duty overseas, including Lyndon.

"'You should bring him back here. He could be much more useful in Washington,' I advised.

"But now that he's president," mused Elliott, "I can't even get him on the phone."

Elliott referred to the fact that when he was in Washington this month he had asked to see the President, but he was told by one of the young blades around the White House, "Wait until after the election. We can't afford to antagonize George Smathers."

This referred to the fact that the White House staff, with or without the knowledge of the President, has been leaning over backward to butter up the once-powerful, now waning junior senator from Florida, who once packed a lot of weight in Washington as a result of a close friendship with the late John F. Kennedy.

House May Become More Conservative

WASHINGTON — A landslide for President Johnson does not necessarily mean the election to Congress of Democrats who will support the liberal policies he has adopted as his own.

A humiliating defeat for Sen. Barry Goldwater does not insure that moderate Republicans will win congressional races and governorships so they can regain party control.

These paradoxes are in the hands of the voters. Only prodigies of ticket-splitting will elect Republicans who are struggling for victories which will help them to divert their party from the Goldwater path. Fortunately for them, only six states still offer the easy inducement of one mark or one lever for straight-ticket voting.

The six do not include New York and Pennsylvania where Republican Sens. Kenneth Keating and Hugh Scott, moderates who have detached themselves from Goldwater, are fighting fiercely for re-election. Both are given a chance but are threatened by a Johnson landslide predicted even in rural areas which are traditionally Republican.

☆ ☆ ☆

The plight of the all too few house Republican liberals is worse. Senators at least enjoy the top spots on the ballot and their names quickly strike the eye which has selected a presidential choice. Representatives may be far down the line, and voters anxious not to spoil their ballots are less apt to exercise their right of choice for them.

For example, Rep. John Lindsay, a Republican of such grace and intellect that he is considered to have a bright national future, is in 13th place on the New York ballot. His attractive GOP colleague, Rep. Charles Mathias of Maryland, describes his spot as two lines down and four places over.

Keating and Lindway are further jeopardized by the determination of the extreme right to punish them for not backing Goldwater, even if it means electing a Democrat. Each has a conservative party opponent, so their hopes rest on the friendly independents and Democrats who are working far into the night as volunteer helpers.

☆ ☆ ☆

Past elections have shown remarkable examples of ticket-splitting. For instance, in 1962 Pennsylvania re-elected Sen. Joseph Clark, a Democrat, by a 104,000 plurality while it made Rep. William Scranton, a Republican, its governor by nearly half a million surplus votes.

The National Committee for an Effective Congress, which supports liberals of both parties, believes that the meaning of the election is to be found in the key contests at the congressional level. It suggests that Goldwaterism can be strengthened by defeat of moderates of both parties even if Goldwater is snowed under.

Such a result would certainly presage a much slower legislative pace than the President has promised. The Democratic leadership in both houses, not brilliant now, would be materially weakened.

Goldwater now says he will retire if he loses. Even if he does not, neither he nor his managers have shown the kind of political brilliance which could withstand a truly crushing defeat next Tuesday.

State School Board

Petersburg, Neb.

Your editorial "A Switch Of No Value" of October 10, and those who oppose the amendment which proposes that the office of commissioner of education be elective seem to stand upon these two major premises. First, that the Department of Education is now in the hands of the people, and second, that all is going well —so no change is needed.

Theoretically the department is in the hands of the people because the State Board of Education is elected and the board in turn appoints the commissioner. But practically the department is not now controlled by the people. Test this by asking the next 10 or 20 persons you meet who their district member of the state board is and if they know his name (which isn't likely), what his policies are and how he stands as to the present commissioner. People do not know the state board, but many do know something about the commissioner. This is natural because it is the commissioner who is in focus — not the board. Many would have an opinion as to the commissioner (if his name were on the ballot) but do not know the board. Thus, the Department of Education is now separated, practically speaking, from the electorate. When we realize this, we cannot blithely say that a change which permits the electorate the choice of the department commissioner himself is a switch of no value.

The affairs of the Department of Education may be in good order now (although this may certainly be questioned), but things often go well even while we sleep, provided we do not sleep too long.

The 301 Committee (campaigning against the amendment) uses the slogan, "Keep The Right To Elect Your School Board." This is misleading, to say the least. If they mean "State School Board," why don't they say so? To most people, "Your School Board" means the local board of education—with which the amendment is not concerned.

Postal Pay

Lincoln, Neb.

In the October 24 Star, someone wrote about the postal workers' wages. It is true that the postal carriers should be paid a fair wage, and where else can you get such service for a five-cent stamp?

However, when the wage increase was given about two years ago, it was given on a percentage basis. Therefore, the lower paid were increased by about 20%, or approximately 40 cents an hour, while the postmaster was given a much larger increase because of the higher wage he was getting. This doesn't seem just to me. The postmaster already makes enough to have a comfortable living. That just goes to show that you have to have money to make money.

And to the party who said that if the Lord wanted a farmer to have a tractor to do his work, He would have created him with one, O.K.—the Lord gave you two legs and not an automobile, so why don't you walk?

Not very wise thinking if that is the way the Beermann followers believe.

Enduring Shame

Lincoln, Neb.

Last Friday I made a self-appointed inspection of the Lancaster County jail. This is not the first jail that I have inspected, but it is the worst one. More than 60 years ago, some interested citizens made a move to replace this "old" jail house. The effort failed. Almost 50 years later the fire marshal condemned the building, and the federal department has long since declared it unfit for federal prisoners. A few years ago, a cheap "bull-pen" cell was erected upon the old first floor wall. How this ancient conglomerate of broken cement and rock can hold together, at all, will mystify anyone who takes the time to examine it.

There is no provision for segregating young offenders from older hardened criminals, and no place for the incarceration of women. This has not always been true. One woman, I believe the last one incarcerated, in the county jail, remembered the jail as the "most terrible place" she had ever seen, and she remembered Mrs. Karnopp as the "most kindly woman" she had ever known.

The men in the jail now have no place to take a bath. That is not quite true: there is a zinc tub. On the lower floor, I counted 12 men locked in a soggy "bull-pen" cell with a single toilet seat. The newer cell on the second floor is little better. It is "bunked" for 24 men. I counted 14. There are two wash bowls and two toilet seats in the cell.

The people of Lancaster County are generous and humane. The jail house is the county's one enduring shame. Why has it been tolerated so long? Certainly not because of incompetence or lack of conscience in the sheriff's office, or on the part of the keepers of the jail.

Men in the jail are forgotten men. Few of them have ever really felt or touched the "main" stream of social life. They are rarely visited, and the inside of the jail is not often seen by the ordinary citizen.

A new jail house is included in the proposed county building.

Sales, Income Taxes

Fremont, Neb.

Many doubtfuls swung to Burney last week when they heard Morrison's latest pronouncement on taxes. Our liberal governor said, "We must get more money from Washington, or another form of taxation to run Nebraska."

This is the typical liberal mode of operation. They threaten the voters by saying that "if you won't spend the money, some mystic bureaucrat who knows what's best for you will do it, anyway!" And we pay—and pay—and pay.

Burney has been criticized for his honest opinion of state income and sales taxes. However, his critics fail to mention or do not know that Frank Morrison is for these taxes and is even now working quietly for them behind the scenes and says he will not veto laws for them. But it will take action by our Legislature to pass the laws—neither man can do it alone.

Political Football

Raymond, Neb.

In a recent television appearance, Governor Morrison spoke words to the effect that if we can disagree without being disagreeable, etc. Indeed!

Upon his election to the governorship in 1962, Frank Morrison fired two Republicans and one Democrat from the Nebraska Centennial Commission. They had opposed his re-election.

Presumably the commission was set up as a bipartisan group. It is hardly presumed that the members were to surrender their political prerogative.

When the commission was thus made a political football, Republicans had a right to be indignant, independents had a right to be disgusted, and we registered Democrats had a right only to be ashamed. In fact, could anybody point with pride?

'Hate' Literature

North Bend, Neb.

Every thinking Democrat and Republican abhors the use of "hate" literature. However, The Star's totally unfair articles in the October 19 issue have done more to stir up hate, at least in this particular individual, than any other literature I have read.

It is true that the Republican state organization distributed the small cards which quote Lyndon Johnson as saying, "Bobby Baker is the last man I see at night and the first man I see in the morning." Apparently also the Republicans-for Johnson organization has accused the Republicans of distributing a leaflet which is quoted in The Star article. A check with some of the personnel running the Omaha headquarters reveals that none of these personnel has seen the literature referred to in the article, and a check with Mr. Walter Witthoff, Republican state chairman official, reveals that this literature has not been distributed by the Republican party. The Star articles imply that the Goldwater Republicans are dispensing all of the Gerald L. K. Smith literature displayed in the photograph. Nothing could be further from the truth. The only literature produced by Gerald L. K. Smith which has been distributed by the Republican party is a small card, "Exploiting the Johnson, Bobby Baker connection."

Unfortunately, the American public too often reads only the headlines.

No Comment

Lincoln, Neb.

Why is Attorney General Clarence Meyer refusing to investigate what appears to be perjured testimony of Republican executive secretary Jack Schuetz in the recent partisan legislature hearing? His deputy attended the hearings and was fully informed. Presumably deputy and "general" communicate; yet Mr. Meyer refuses even to comment.

Is it his hope that ignoring a politically embarrassing situation will cause it to "go away"? Or is it his fear that Mr. Schuetz may, indeed, have perjured himself?

In either case, Nebraskans must demand action from their attorney general. Considering Mr. Meyer's obvious reluctance to perform the duties of the office of attorney general, one wonders why he is running for another term.

Not Empty-Handed

Beatrice, Neb.

In Lyndon B. Johnson, we have a president the likes of whom we have never known and one who will never be equaled. Come what may, his one and only ambition is running the affairs of this great and mighty nation in the manner it should be run, as a sound financial business and employing the Golden Rule. Any who have come to Uncle Sam in trouble and in times of stress were not sent away empty-handed.

Mr. Johnson has dedicated himself to seeing that our millions of people rise above the walls of class and have a better living and education, regardless of race, creed or color.

The "Yes" Vote

Guide Rock, Neb.

In the Ocober 24 Star, a reader from Lincoln signing himself as "L. R. D." suggested we place a big "NO" sign in both the Senate and the House, as this would serve as well as our representatives in Washington.

Let me remind him that this would not work, as our congressman, Dave Martin, voted "yes" for a 60% subsidy to the shipping industry (Law HR 11586), and Mr. Beermann no doubt followed suit.

CELEBRATE

★★ ELECTION DAY ★★

With a time-saving, money-saving Oriental meal

Who but Chun King would think of it? While jumping for joy the way the returns are going—or, gnashing your teeth—get the whole family together for a really different dinner. Doesn't matter what party you marked your "X" for, you'll save time and money And whether your husband is mad or glad about who won, he'll be crazy about you.

Celebrate with Ting-A-Lings

Both Republicans and Democrats like chocolate ting-a-lings. Use your favorite chocolate, Chun King noodles. Melt 2 cups chocolate bits, blend with 1 cup salted peanuts, 2 cups Chun King Noodles. Drop from teaspoon onto waxed paper. Chill to harden.

Celebrate with Baked Chow Mein!

Right! Baked chow mein. Buy famous Chun King Divider Pak, with sauce in top can, vegetables in bottom. Put 'em together in a casserole, top with grated cheese, oven heat. Serve on Chun King Noodles and pieces of broiled pineapple. Serves 4, no matter what party they voted for.

Celebrate with a Noodle Salad

Molded salads, creamy fruit salads, seafood and chicken salads, and aspics . . . look and taste better with crisp Chun King Noodles sprinkled on top. Use lots of them, they're made with fresh eggs, and you can't believe how good they are!

Celebrate with Tomato-Soya Soup!

Start your meal with a cup of tomato soup, spiked with Chun King soya sauce. Nippy and different. Soya sauce is great with tomato juice, too, and lots of other foods.

There you are! Soup, salad, main dish, dessert. You've spent less for this supper than in many a moon. And it took about as much time as marking your ballot. Once you've tried an American-Oriental kind of meal, you'll think of dozens of variations for other days of the year. For example, Mon Day, Tues Day, Wed Nes Day, and so on. Even Sat Urday.

Firm's Power Deal Concerns Petersen

Mayor Dean Petersen Thursday said he is concerned about reports that several Nebraska towns are considering contracts with an Omaha investment banking firm to operate their electric distribution systems.

The firm, Robert Schweser Co., has made financing-operating proposals to Scottsbluff, Ogallala and Albion, which are presently retail customers of Consumers Public Power District.

"The electric distribution system in any town in the state is the life blood of the community," the Lincoln mayor said. "I do not understand the philosophy of a community which would bargain away one of its most precious assets for a few dollars."

Collect Revenue

Under the Schweser plan, the communities would receive a specific amount of money from the company, which would provide personnel and equipment and collect all operating revenue.

"Every community operates its own water and sewage systems and operates it at cost for the benefit of its own people," Petersen said. "Electricity should be handled in the same manner."

Petersen suggested the communities would be selling their birthrights for a few dollars.

Nebraska has public power today—a decision made 25 years ago, he said. If the state allows itself to fragmentate with private power, the ability of some of our small communities to survive will be eroded because of the high cost of electricity.

"There are things wrong with the present power system that need to be corrected," he said, "but I am confident these can be corrected in the next Legislature.

"We need a unified generating and grid system," he said. "Municipalities should be free to own and operate their own systems if they wish."

'Oyez, The British Are Coming'—Town Crier

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Town Crier Alfie Howard of London is only mildly amused when he is mistaken for Paul Revere in his 17th century costume with 52 brass buttons.

But, Alfie with his "official" brass bell is in Lincoln to tell the townsfolk that the British are coming.

Alfie is "crying" (announcing, if you prefer) the opening of the "Hail Britannia" Import Fair next week at Gold's of Nebraska.

State Functions

Duties of his honored profession also include appearances at royal weddings, many occasions of state, and virtually every function requiring a toastmaster.

"But, an English toastmaster is not a Georgie Jessel," explains Alfie. "The introduction of the speaker is very formal."

Alfie introduces the guest speaker "by command of . . ."

Prevailed upon to introduce Nebraska's Governor Morrison earlier this week for a few remarks at an informal function, Alfie's wry humor couldn't resist departing slightly from tradition.

"And, God save the queen," he entoned. "God save the President. God help the governor."

Twice Champion

His 15 years in his profession has twice earned him the title of champion town crier of Great Britain.

This is his second visit to America. In 1962, he accompanied Prince Phillip on a visit of state to Washington.

Alfie become a town crier as one of the fortunes of war. A sergeant in the Queen's Royal Regiment in the desperate battle of Dunkirk, Alfie was wounded and shell-shocked. It left him stuttering badly.

But speech therapy to correct the stuttering, removed the Cockney accent and gave him the perfect diction for being a town crier. "And with the strong voice that sergeants develop, I was in business," he says.

From Lincoln, Alfie flies back to England where he will be "toastmaster" for the annual staff party at Buckingham Palace.

Bank At Valentine Being Investigated

The State Department of Banking Thursday took possession of the State Bank at Valentine to investigate alleged unauthorized practices, State Banking Director Henry Ley said Thursday.

Ley said six investigators, three from his department and three from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, are in Valentine examining the bank's records.

"An investigation by the FDIC and our department has uncovered some unauthorized practices," Ley said, "and a further investigation will disclose the extent of these practices. We had no alternative but to take possession of the bank's records."

Closed In Morning

He said the bank was closed at 8:57 a.m.

The bank, one of two in Valentine, had a capital structure on Oct. 1 of $671,770 with total deposits of more than $5.8 million, Ley said.

He identified the bank's acting officers as Richard L. Davenport of Valentine, president, and F. L. Colburn of Valentine, cashier.

Ley said state and federal officials began an investigation of the bank's operations on Oct. 12. He said the investigation was "prompted by the volume of loans."

Only The Second

Gov. Frank Morrison said it was only the second bank in the state which has been possessed since he has been governor.

"The action had to be taken for the protection of the depositors," the governor said.

State law holds that the State Department of Banking can take possession of state charter banks to examine and investigate alleged unauthorized practices.

May Reopen

"The bank's operation may be resumed," Ley said. "It's just too early now to tell what the outcome will be."

The bank, which was organized in 1915, is a member of the FDIC and all its deposits up to $10,000 are insured or guaranteed by the federal government.

Ley said the balance of any deposits in excess of $10,000 will be a claim against the assets of the bank in case it is liquidated.

Preparing Inventory

Ley said federal and state officials now are in the process of preparing an inventory of the assets and liabilities of the bank as required by law to ascertain the facts and condition of the bank.

He said the stockholders will have an opportunity to reopen the bank after the investigation is concluded. He said the bank will be liquidated if the stockholders do not reopen it.

Davenport was identified as the principal stockholder.

The last time the state took over a bank was in 1962 when the Gresham State Bank was closed and then reopened after a reorganization conducted by the state.

Judge Dismisses Assault Charges

Wahoo (AP)— Justice of the Peace J. P. Howard has dismissed charges of assault to do great bodily harm filed against 26-year-old Mrs. Sue Marlene Howard of Douglas County.

She was charged in connection with the wounding in the head of James Black, 29, then of Valley, on Dec. 1, 1963.

Howard said he dismissed the charges because of lack of sufficient evidence.

Battered Child Law Is Urged

A subcommittee of the Nebraska Committee for Children and youth Thursday urged that the state pass a law making it easier to gain convictions in battered child cases.

The legislations recommendation was passed after a member of the study committee, Lincoln Attorney Richard Hansen, said it is extremely hard to gather enough evidence to convict parents on child abuse charges.

The committee has been studying various proposal to strengthen the state's battered child laws.

Basically, the study committee recommended that the 1965 legislature pass a law that would:

—Make it mandatory for all persons to report suspected battered child cases. Failure to do so would be considered a misdemeanor.

—Eliminate as privileged the doctor-patient and lawyer-client relationships in court cases involving the physical abuse of children.

POSTCARD by Stan Kaplan

Seafaring men have shaped the American Virgin Islands. First came Columbus on his second voyage. He was running out of holy names for all the islands and bays and rivers of the discovery.

He named these Virgin Islands for St. Ursula and her 11,000 martyred virgins.

This more than took care of the islands plus all the rocks around. There are 48 American islands, 32 British Virgin Islands. However, there are a lot of rocky points sticking up you could call islands.

Anyway, they are all covered by St. Ursula and the 11,000.

☆ ☆ ☆

America bought the Virgins in 1917 for a possible coaling station and as the naval key to the Caribbean.

They bought it from the Danes. Who, I imagine, have been pretty gloomy about it since the tourist trade started.

Now the Navy is back. Training underwater demolition crews.

It is prime swimming water. You can see 20 or more feet down to the sugar white sands.

They are also training porpoises. The Navy is. Pretty soon, porpoises will be in the Naval Reserve. And a porpoise may yet be appointed to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

☆ ☆ ☆

The training of the intelligent porpoises has struck the fancy of the native Virgin Islands. They had no idea a fish could be so smart.

It is all secret work naturally. Hush-hush. Top secret.

But I suppose a few porpoises have done some talking—that is the whole idea of the project; that porpoises can talk. We just don't read their fishy language yet.

"They plan to tie a dam bum on those porpoise," said my coconut bartender.

"Those porpoise better than torpedo. They think!"

☆ ☆ ☆

The Navy has not invited me around to see their hush-hush, talking porpoises.

(Oh, it's Tommy this, and Tommy that when they want reserve enlistments. But afterwards, you would think I was a spy or something.)

Anyway, the bartender assured me they had the porpoises so well in hand that the rat-finks were already bucking for chiefs.

Everybody seemed to be happy. The underwater demolition crews swimming in waters that millionaires from New York pay fabulous sums for. The porpoises learning about how to deliver nuclear warheads and win the posthumous Porpoise Purple Heart.

☆ ☆ ☆

I had intended to dive a little in these waters myself. These are treasure waters. The bottom of the Virgin Islands' waters is quite shallow—though from this underwater ledge, the sea falls off in great deeps outside the islands area.

After Columbus, Sir Francis Drake sailed here. His fellow freebooter, John Hawkins, died and was sunk in his hammock right off St. John's island.

However, with Navy and Navy porpoises, it seemed awfully crowded. Also I heard there were sharks.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Sharks don't bite here," said the bartender opening a coconut with his cutlass. "Nobody ever bite in the Virgin Islands."

Well, that is his story. There's always a first.

I did find an excellent treasure diving outfit though. Over on St. John's, at Caneel Bay resort, they have a kind of foam beach chair.

You sit in this chair. And it floats on the water.

In each arm, there is a dry well. You fill one well with ice and beer. And you fill the other with chicken sandwiches.

You just float around. And if you see any treasure below you, you just get out of the chair and get it. You could even hire a retired Navy porpoise.

Beam Makes Issue Of Sorensen's ADA Ties

Lancaster County Republican Chairman Arlen Beam Thursday asked Democratic lieutenant governor nominee Philip Sorensen to "tell voters whether he is now or has ever been a member of the Americans for Democratic Action."

County Democratic Chairman Norman Krivosha replied that Sorensen "has never been reluctant to say to anyone that he is a member of many groups, including ADA, VFW, American Legion and the Chamber of Commerce, all active in keeping Communism and Communist influence out of the U.S."

Krivosha said "the next vice president," a U.S. Supreme Court justice, many U.S. senators and congressmen, of both parties, are also members of these groups.

Beam said "a number of people have questioned Sorensen's liberal associations since he and Governor Frank Morrison are now running as a team."

If Sorensen is "a disciple of the ADA," Beam said, "it seems that Mr. Morrison, who has tried to make people believe he is a conservative in the past, has now fastened a screaming liberal to his coattails."

Beam said Republican officials have received between 50 and 100 telephone calls during the past several days inquiring if Sorensen is a member of "the extreme liberal organization."

Orme Called 'Captive Of Special Interests'

Russell R. Strom, 29th District candidate for the Legislature, charged Thursday that "the last legislative session proved the voters of my district have lost their representation."

Strom said that Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme is "a captive of special interests and did not represent her people at all last session."

Mrs. Orme, he said, either sponsored or supported legislation which would have taken away the right to buy merchandise when one wanted to (the Sunday closing law); failed to protect families with modest income (time-sales legislation); took away the people's right to vote on who should provide electrical service for citizens of Lincoln.

Callan Wants Foe To Clear Stand On SS

Democratic congressional nominee Clair Callan Thursday said "the people of the First District are entitled to know exactly what my opponent's position is on social security."

Republican Rep. Ralph Beermann's voting record "indicates that he is opposed to social security," Callan said.

"But, in statements he has made in the past several days, he told a luncheon audience he was tired when he wrote a letter opposing the principal of social security; he said on a television show he could not commit himself on whether he was for it or not; he told a coffee reception that once he made up his mind, he never changed.

"I can only conclude that he is opposed to social security, but he doesn't have the political courage to admit it."

Callan said Beermann should realize that "if he ever votes for social security, this eliminates him from his 100% rating by the Americans for Constitutional Action."

Colwell Unit Termed 'Phantom Committee' By Ross

Omaha (UPI)—Republican National Committeeman Donald Ross of Omaha Thursday termed a "Republicans for Colwell Committee" a "phantom committee" without any officers and without funds.

Ross said a recent television advertisement appeared on a North Platte television station which allegedly was sponsored by the committee. He said the officers were not revealed or shown on the political advertisement, in violation of federal statute.

Ross also said a check with the secretary of state's office showed the committee had submitted no financial report, as required by state law.

Teachers Discuss Specialties, Elect Sectional Officers At NSEA Meet

Sectional meetings highlighted the Thursday afternoon sessions of the District 1 meeting of the Nebraska State Education Assn.

Speaking to the elementary school teachers at the Association for Childhood Education Interrational luncheon, was Jean Bothwell, a native Nebraskan now of New York, who has written several children's books.

She traced the background of books written for children, noting the changing trends over the years and citing examples of adult stories written for children as well as children's books written for adults.

Americans Impatient

Dr. Soon Sung Cho of the University of Nebraska political science department, told the social studies sectional that the American people are too impatient.

"You can't solve international problems in a short time," he said.

He emphasized the importance of the Viet Nam situation, noting that the United States must keep Viet Nam as its ally or "lose all of South Asia."

Victor Cottrell of Beatrice was elected chairman of the group. Other officers are Mrs. Mildred Webert of Lincoln, vice chairman, and Mrs. Clarice Ramsay, of Lincoln, secretary.

R. Neale Copple, associate professor of journalism at the University of Nebraska, outlined to journalism teachers beauty discovered in Nebraska by University of Nebraska journalism students in a depth report completed last year.

He said the students found that "the harsh but fertile land of the plains waited for man to come and adopt to the land, and when he did, the land bloomed."

Mrs. Marjorie Smith of Superior was elected chairman of the journalism instructors section.

Speech Theory

Dr. Paul Hunsinger, speech professor at the University of Denver in Denver, Colo., told the speech division of the NSEA Thursday that speech teachers are teaching too much classical speech theory and not enough speech skills or methods.

He said that in many schools it is possible for a speech major to graduate without ever giving a speech.

"To many speech majors," he said, "never learn to be good speakers."

The library division of the association heard Lester Harvey, consultant on libraries and audio-visual instructional materials for the Nebraska State Department of Education.

They also had a panel discussion in which library problems were discussed. Taking part in the panel were Miss Ruth Harris of Hastings, Richard Sedlacek of Crete, Mrs. Minnie Campbell of Superior, Mrs. Lois Collings of Lincoln and Mrs. Ruth Siefkes of Lincoln.

New Co-Chairmen

Robert Keckley and Mrs. Pat Downing, both teachers at Culler Junior High in Lincoln, were elected the new co-chairmen of the health, physical education and recreation division of the educational association.

This division listened to Dr. Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, former director of athletics at the University of Kansas in Lawrence, Kan., speak.

Gene Morlan, associate executive secretary of the Music Educators National Conference in Washington D.C., spoke to the music section on "You and Your Professional Organization".

He said that a recent survey shows that music holds a firm position in the curriculum of most schools, but that often it is slanted only toward the talented music students and as a result too many students never have a chance to gain a real understanding of music before graduating from high school.

Morlan stressed the fact that the music division has one of the best professional organizations in the whole field of education.

New officers of the NSEA music division are Robert Maag of Waverly, president; Richard Kucera of Lincoln, vice president; and Allen Ziegelbein of Sutton, secretary-treasurer.

"Improving Learning for Gifted Children" was the topic of a speech given by Dr. Asahel D. Woodruff, dean of the College of Education at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City, Utah, to the speech division of the association.

He pointed out that the academically gifted child is usually easier to work with than the creatively gifted child. The academically gifted, he said, are usually conformists and conservatives, but the creative child is not well-rounded and is usually a nonconformist.

Dr. Woodruff encouraged the teachers to recognize the creative child's ability and to have patience with him.

Mrs. Augusta Schlange was elected the new chairman of the speech section and it was decided that a speech sectional meeting would be held in Kearney February 13.

SOCIAL MERRY-GO-ROUND GAINS SPEED

CRYSTAL BALLS would sell like hot cakes at the Stadium on Saturday provided, of course, they could foretell the outcome of the game. We're surprised that some enterprising soul hasn't come up with a pocket size computer just for football games. But until someone does those agonizing moments of hope and despair will continue.

* * *

WE DON'T need a crystal ball to tell us how the weekend is shaping up, socially speaking. True it is that much of the activity revolves around the game—and game guests—,but we also have interesting news which has nothing to do with football.

In Lincoln this week are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sweet who are the house guests of Mrs. Sweet's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. William Rotton.

The visitors are in the States on a two months leave, and came from Stuttgart, Germany, where Mr Sweet is the United States Counsel-General. Much of their time has been devoted to visiting their children and grandchildren in various sections of the country—and they arrived in Lincoln for their visit with Dr. and Mrs. Rotton several days ago. During their stay here they have been kept exceedingly busy with numerous informal affairs—with more to come before they leave on Sunday to return to Stuttgart.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweet will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Rotton's 'football group' when the members dine at the Lincoln Country Club on Saturday evening.

The membership roster includes, in addition to Dr. and Mrs. Rotton, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan, Dr. and Mrs. Alan Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Neely, Dr. and Mrs. John T. McGreer, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Henkle and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Devries.

The group also will have another out of town guest at their Saturday evening festivities—Mrs. Helen Skold of Kearney, who is in town for the teachers' convention, and who is the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Morgan.

* * *

THERE IS FUN afoot before the weekend really gets underway. Some of the guests, such as Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stephens of Akron, O., arrived early. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens, who are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynie, arrived on Wednesday evening and will, naturally, remain until Sunday.

And arriving this evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Warner B. (Dusty) Rhodes of Cleveland, O., who are to be the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoppe.

Back to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynie—just long enough to tell you that their daughters, Miss Pam Haynie of Arvada, Colo., and Miss Cindy Haynie of Chicago, will be in Lincoln for the game weekend—the guests of their parents, of course.

* * *

AND SOME of the guests will not arrive until Saturday—We have in mind Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lisle of Clarinda, Iowa, who will be the game weekend guests of Mrs. Lisle's cousin, Mrs. Lester M. Buckley, Jr., and Mrs. Buckley, Joining the family circle long before game time will be Mrs. Lisle's sister, Miss Mary Coleman of Columbia, Mo.

* * *

AS WE have said before—there are parties and parties—and parties—and we'll begin with those on the calendar for this evening. We already have mentioned Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stephens from Akron, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Warner B. Rhodes of Cleveland, and the guest foursome will be complimented at a buffet supper this evening when Mr. and Mrs. John Hoppe entertain a small group of guests at their home.

Another of the Friday evening affairs is the informal dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Stuart will be host and hostess at the Lincoln Country Club. The dinner for a guest sixsome, will compliment Mr. and Mrs. Alan McIntosh of Luverne, Minn., who are in Lincoln for the game weekend.

* * *

THEN COMES Saturday—and parties all over town.

Some time ago we mentioned the party for which John Van Bloom, his son, Jack Van Bloom—and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Budig will be hosts and hostss at the home of Mr. Van Bloom.

Also on the party agenda is the pre-game luncheon for which Mr. and Mrs. Paul Klein will be host and hostess at their home when they entertain 20 guests—

We're going to make a short detour along this week's festive road to tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Liggett, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones and Dr. and Mrs. William Jack Jarvis will be going to the Cornhusker-KU game at Lawrence a week from Saturday. Mr. Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Dr. and Mrs. Jarvis are KU alumni, but we understand that Mrs Klein will join Mr. and Mrs. Liggett in lusty cheers for Nebraska.

* * *

NOW BACK to the Saturday parties—One of these, another of the pre-game affairs, will have Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gillen as hosts and hostesses when they entertain a small group of guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wagner.

—The Saturday night calendar is not without its glamour either — Mr. and Mrs. James Critchfield have invited 16 guests for a post-game canape party and buffet supper at their home. Out of town guests will include Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Theisen of Osmond; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Kratz and Calvin Solem, all of Omaha.

* * *

WE'VE DONE considerable talking about Nebraska football and its social accompaniment, but all of the activity is not confined to the University of Nebraska campus — Nebraska Wesleyan has quite a weekend on its hands, too.

Nebraska Wesleyan is having 'homecoming' this weekend and it begins this evening when the Wesleyan football team meets the football squad from William Jewell College at Liberty Mo.

Among the out of town guests who will be attending the Wesleyan festivities are Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Kronen of Kennewick, Wash.; Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Wright of Cleburne, Tex., and Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Drown of Holdrege, all of whom are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Dixon.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Dixon entertained at dinner as a courtesy to the visitors, and the reunion of former Nebraska Wesleyan classmates was held at the Dixon farm near Waverly. Twenty guests were invited.

In addition to the homecoming game this evening the weekend also includes the 75th anniversary of Willard Sorority of which Mrs. Dixon and the feminine members of the guest sixsome are members. The celebration takes place on Saturday at the Willard chapter house.

* * *

COMPLETELY unrelated to the game activity — or guests, or parties — is news from San Antonio, Tex. We hear that Capt. and Mrs. T. L. Sams have a new member in their family — a young man who arrived on Tuesday, Oct. 27. The baby's mother is the former Mary Jane Koch, daughter of O. L. Koch of Lincoln — and Kappa Kappa Gamma at Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sams of Memphis, Tenn., are the paternal grandparents.

* * *

TURNING a page in our little black book we found that the Fifty Fifty Club is having its November dinner and bridge affair on next Tuesday evening at Hotel Cornhusker. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Chapman are in charge of the arrangements.

Fun News In Suburbia

MEADOW LANE

'Tis the night before Halloween and all through the house everyone is scurrying about — especially mothers who are in search of some bit of material to "appropriately" dress their youngsters for the festivities ahead.

And meanwhile—back at suburban quarters—it seems to be a matter of who is going to take the youngsters "spooking" and who is going to partake in the many activities that are happening this weekend.

But back to the Halloween situation where we find that Miss Elizabeth Fleck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Fleck, is celebrating her fifth anniversary with a Halloween party.

Elizabeth—with the help of her mother—will be entertaining eight neighborhood friends this afternoon at her home. The theme of course will be Halloween.

On Saturday evening, Elizabeth will again be honored at a birthday dinner.

Arriving at the Fleck home for the celebration will be Elizabeth's Godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Faimon, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Fleck.

There also is another Halloween party in the Meadow Lane area to report. The party included 10 Meadow Lane Girl Scouts and their friends who ventured over to the Girl Scout cabin Wednesday afternoon.

Also attending the festivities were Mrs. William Lien, Mrs. Gale Collins, Mrs. Marvin Carr, and Mrs. Robert Longman.

And there are Meadow Lane residents who are still talking about the Colorado game last weekend — like Mr. and Mrs. Reg Davies and Mrs. and Mrs. Don Betts.

These two couples drove to Boulder last weekend for the game, after which they joined a group of Mrs. Davies friends—all Gamma Phi Beta alumnae.

Las Vegas, Nev., will be the destination next Wednesday for Mrs. Richard Baker who will leave via jet from Omaha for the Miss Rodeo America Pageant to be held Nov. 5 through the 8 at the Sahara Hotel.

Mrs. Baker is one of the director of the pageant which will include representatives from 40 states. Also being held during this period of time will be the International Rodeo Management Convention and the fall indoor rodeo.

Prior to her trip, Mrs. Baker and son Paul will take off on Tuesday for Burwell where Paul will be the guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Banks, until Mrs. Baker returns on Monday, Nov. 9.

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

We don't know if everyone is informed that this week is Teachers Convention — which means there undoubtedly will be some guests in the area. As a matter of fact there is one now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Killion.

The visitor from now until Sunday is their grandson, Paul Killion III, of Big Springs.

There also is a birthday in the Hollywood Heights area to report this morning —that of Miss Carol Stolzenburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Stolzenburg.

Although Carol officially had her 11th anniversary on Oct. 26, she celebrated the occasion on Sunday, Oct. 25. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Stolzenburg and daughter Terri, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Case, Mrs. Elcidean Prey, Bob Prey, Peggy Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Prey and daughter, Sherri, and Mrs. and Mrs. Ray Volkmer.

Traveling to Colorado last weekend were Hollywood Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. Les Wickenkamp and their son Kevin.

They drove to Central City where they were the guests of Mr. Wickenkamp's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnson. They returned home on Sunday evening.

Dear Abby

Check His Marital Status Before Issuing Invitation

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 29, single and (I'm told) attractive. I have a little problem with my milkman. He has often left me more milk than I have asked for and he doesn't charge me for it. The other day he knocked on my door. When I answered it he asked me if I was alone. I asked him why he wanted to know and he said he gets lonesome when he delivers in this area because it is a rural route, and he wanted to know if he could eat his lunch with me on my porch. I have seen him eating his lunch in his truck while I eat mine in the kitchen. He can see me through the window. Would it be wrong for me to invite him to eat his lunch with me. He seems such a nice man.

DOUBTFUL IN PETALUMA

DEAR DOUBTFUL: So far, all you know about him is that he is generous, lonesome and interested in you. Is he married? If so, don't let him get any chummier. If not, you couldn't order a better set-up.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is fair for a school to give a girl an "F" if she refuses to take a shower in the nude with eight other girls and the gym teacher standing there watching? I raised my daughter to be modest, and I don't think the school has any right to try to change her upbringing in this respect. Our schools have money for everything else. They didn't ask the taxpayers if they wanted lounges for the teachers, they just went ahead and built them. I think a few showers with curtains or doors should be provided for the child who has been taught at home to keep her body sacred. I would like some comment on this from you and other parents, please.

ONE MOTHER'S VOICE

DEAR VOICE: This complaint has been voiced in my column before by parents and students themselves. I agree with you. I realize that my opinion will win me few friends on school boards, but it seems to me that arrangements could be made for those children who desire privacy. Petition your local school mothers, and more power to you.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have two problems. One, when I take my wife to work in the morning (she teaches school) see doesn't let me kiss her for fear someone she works with might see her. I say to heck with them. She is my wife and it is only a peck in the cheek. Second, we've been married almost a year and she still refuses to use my name. She goes by "Miss" as though she were single. I was born in New York and have lived here all my life. Many immigrant Puerto Ricans have the same name and I THINK THAT BOTHERS HER. She is putting me through graduate school, so naturally I don't want to upset anything by making any demands right now. Can you advise me?

WITHOLD MY NAME

DEAR WITHOLD: You are saying that since your wife is putting you through college, you are in no position to make any demands right now. Your complaint is justified but your restraint is wise. Perhaps you can call the signals some day—but don't count on it.

Why Grow Old?

Your Feet Need Tender Care

Josephine Lowman

Feet are probably the most abused members of the figure family. We pamper our face and neck with lubricating and moisturizing creams. We exercise to slim our waist and abdomen and we massage our scalp. What do most women do for their feet? They often neglect them, or even worse, abuse them. Yet these step children of the figure family take us everywhere and bear the brunt of our hurry or overweight or poor posture or high-style shoes.

In the first place, wear shoes which do not crowd the toes or slip up and down on the heels or cut into the heels. In other words, for general wear select shoes which are attractive but not too extreme in cut and heel. Be sure that they are properly fitted. Save the fancy high-heeled ones for special occasions or when you will not be on your feet much of the time.

The habitual use of poorly fitted shoes will lead to real trouble later on. The feet can take a terrible revenge with bunions, painful heel bumps, fatigue, burning, aches and pains. Also, when you wear incorrectly fitted shoes arches suffer.

Save the Feet!

So, number one on my "Save the Feet" column is the right shoe for the right occasion. Next, remember that your feet have very little protection from the wind and cold unless you have on galoshes or boots. Then they are likely to be overheated.

Unless we treat our feet to regular daily massage with a body lotion or hand cream the cuticale around the toenails and the heels are sure to become very rough and dry. Even if you use a bath oil in your tub the heels and cuticle will require special attention.

Nightly Massage

Baby oil is a splendid skin softener. Keep some on your bedside table and massage your feet before going to sleep each night.

This exercise is a good one for strengthening the arches. Stand erect. Place a towel under your toes with the ends of the towel in your hands. Pull up with the towel as you push down with your toes. Push for six counts. Relax and continue.

QUIZ

You are South, neither side vulnerable. The bidding has been

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	4 ♣	Pass
5 ♣

Which card would you choose as your opening lead in each of the following four hands?

1. ♠K4 ♥Q986 ♦KJ94 ♣752
2. ♠J9742 ♥863 ♦K2 ♣A83
3. ♠Q853 ♥9742 ♦QJ7 ♣64
4. ♠J10962 ♥5 ♦9876 ♣K72

1. Two of clubs. Generally speaking, defense in bridge is either active or passive. In some hands you attack to get the best result; in others you play possum, making no lead or play that is apt to cost your side a trick.

The danger of losing a trick with this hand by leading any suit other than a trump is self-evident. Partner is unlikely to have much in high cards, and the best chance of defeating the contract is to stay put and let declarer work out his own salvation.

2. King of diamonds. Here aggressive action is called for. It is true that the king of diamonds lead appears to be a wild shot, particularly since it is not backed up by the queen, but nevertheless, this lead offers the best prospect of beating the contract.

Basically the hope is that partner has the queen and that three tricks can be captured by scoring a diamond, a club and a diamond ruff. Probably the chance of all this materializing is not very good, but no other basis for defense is more attractive. Holding the ace of trumps, it seems best to attack boldly in an effort to manufacture two more tricks.

3. Queen of diamonds. Here we have to depend largely on partner for tricks, and the best we can do is hope to develop a trick or two in diamonds. If partner has the king or ace, we are well on the way to finding the probable weak spot in declarer's armor.

The heart situation looks especially bad, and the effort is to build up diamond tricks before declarer can build up heart tricks. Active defense is clearly indicated.

4. Five of hearts. There is not much hope of stopping the contract unless a heart ruff can be obtained. On the bidding, partner is likely to have a quick entry of some sort, and, if this is the case, a heart ruff will probably prove to be the setting trick.

Leading the top card of a sequence is generally a desirable opening lead, but in this case, holding K-x-x of trumps over the declarer, the singleton heart lead figures to do best.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Stretch Run On

The stretch run is on in the Big Eight football race for defending champion Nebraska and with the top four teams remaining on the Husker schedule, the Scarlet and Cream gridders have only themselves to blame for winning or losing.

With Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma State and Oklahoma looming ahead, the Huskers can win or lose the championship all by their lonesome with no help from elsewhere.

Echoes have come from all corners that the unbeaten Scarlets haven't really beaten anyone yet. It is hard to argue with this premise when considering the records of the teams NU has strung up on its undefeated string.

But at the same time, there can be little disagreement that the four remaining games are against good football teams. Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas had trouble getting out of the gate but all three appear ready for the stretch run.

And Oklahoma State gets a couple of weeks off from league play before coming back against the Huskers Nov. 14 in Lincoln with no worse than a 3-1 record in the Big Eight and a shot at the championship.

Last week's record of 35-13-4 for .712 brought the season mark to 212 right, 100 wrong, 11 ties for .673. This week:

The Big Eight

NEBRASKA 13, Missouri 7 . . . Don't look for much scoring and what does come could come from the defense of both teams. The Huskers have a little more defense and a little more offense.

OKLAHOMA 27, Colorado 7 . . . The Sooners have finally gotten untracked and Gomer Jones keeps saying the Big Eight champ will have one loss. The Sooners already have their loss.

KANSAS 34, Kansas State 7 . . . Jayhawks roll over the Wildcats, who have turned to pussy cats the past two weeks, enroute to big battle with Nebraska at Lawrence next week.

OKLAHOMA STATE 14, Tulsa 13 . . . Cowboys pass defense should be good enough to ground Tulsa passer Jerry Rhome long enough for Phil Cutchins' kids to rack up another win.

ARMY 19, Iowa State 7 . . . Even without the sickness that hit Cyclones the past week, Army could have won. Now, it'll be a little easier for the Cadets.

Hurricanes May Capture First Victory In Tonight's Encounter

By Associated Press

Don't blame the University of Miami football team for hopefully whistling a few bars of "This Could Be the Start of Something Big."

The Hurricanes may be on the verge of their first victory of the season, against Detroit tonight.

The Orange Bowl confrontation is just a lead-in for major Halloween Saturday games which have the coaches of highranked teams wary if not a little frightened of hobgoblins in the form of upset-minded underdogs.

Miami began the year without All-America George Mira and his fellow graduates. Eighteen more players were bowled over by the books or disciplinary action. Yet Coach Charlie Tate has been bringing his forces along steadily.

Still winless, Miami forced California, Pitt and most recently Indiana to stage major comebacks to top or tie this battling band led by quarterback Bob Biletnikoff and Andy Sixkiller, the defensive spark.

Ohio State, voted best in the land for the second straight week, has drilled long and hard on pass defense in preparing to put its unbeaten record and Big Ten lead against Iowa and super-passer Gary Snook.

The rest of the nation's top five perfect record clubs—Notre Dame, Alabama, Arkansas and Nebraska—are casting anxious glances, too.

With All-America Roger Staubach in his best condition since his celebrated ligament injury, second-ranked Notre Dame has held intensive skull sessions prepping for the 38th meeting between the schools in Philadelphia.

Rugged Alabama is a strong choice over Mississippi State in a Southeastern Conference feature. But Coach Bear Bryant frets with a three-touchdown lead late in a game and this coming battle with the Maroons hasn't lightened his outlook.

In the same conference ninth-ranked Louisiana State faces arch-rival Mississippi and Florida, No. 10 plays Auburn. Both games have strong upset possibilities.

Fifth-ranked Nebraska, the national leader in total defense, bumps into Missouri in a Big Eight Conference headliner. The Cornhusker staff says the Tigers "hit harder" and have "more top quality backs than any team we've faced this season." It figures as a real bone-rattler. Co-leader Kansas meanwhile takes on Kansas State and still hopeful Oklahoma meets Colorado.

Arkansas takes its Southwest Conference lead against Texas A&M and Texas' No. 6 Longhorns meet Southern Methodist. Texas will be handicapped by the absence of key players due to injuries, notably linebacker Timmy Doerr and wingback Phil Harris.

Seventh-ranked Oregon, which still maintains a perfect record as does Georgia Tech, Villanova and Bowling Green, continues the serious quest of a Rose Bowl berth against underdog Stanford. The Bob Berry-led Webfoots began the quest last week by defeating Washington.

Georgia Tech, eighth, meets unbeaten, once-tied Duke in the interconference headliner of the day. Intersectional matches include Army-Iowa State, Penn State-Maryland, Villanova-Xavier and West Virginia-Kentucky.

Purdue, still tied with Ohio State atop the Big Ten standings, will decide which stays in the thick of the fight.

METS MAY LAND YOGI

Weiss Interested In Berra's Knowledge

. . . NO CONCRETE PLANS

New York (AP) — Yogi Berra may be the next baseball celebrity to change clubs. Instead of jumping to the New York Yankees, he may reverse the trend and hop the other way — to Casey Stengel and the New York Mets.

George Weiss, president of the Mets and Berra's longtime friend, said Thursday he had been in touch with Berra and would be interested in having the Yankee catcher and manager join the Mets.

When Berra was fired as manager of the Yanks on Oct. 16 after winning the pennant and losing the World Series to the St. Louis Cardinals in seven games, the Yanks offered him a two-year contract as a special field consultant to general manager Ralph Houk. However, no contract was signed.

"I talked with Berra for the first time yesterday," said Weiss at a luncheon called to introduce the press to Bing Devine, the new assistant to the president in the Mets' organization. "Berra told me he hasn't made up his mind yet. He is leaving tomorrow for a 10-day vacation in Pinehurst, N.C., where he expects to play some golf.

"There was no concrete discussion of any type of job he might be interested in. After all that would be largely up to Casey."

If the Mets are able to sign Berra to work with Stengel in uniform, they will have scored a major public relations coup in their turnstile battle with the rival Yankees.

"Yes, I would like to have Berra with the Mets," said Weiss. "He is a man with a great deal of baseball knowledge and popularity."

Weiss said he understood that Berra was free to do what he wished although Weiss had not discussed the matter with Houk.

"Berra says he is free," said Weiss. "He hasn't signed a contract."

The Mets' coaching situation is unsettled. Stengel has not announced the retention of any of the four men who worked with him last season. However, Don Heffner and Sheriff Robinson are working with the Winter Instructional League team in Florida. Wes Westrum is home in Phoenix and Mel Harder reportedly is thinking over his plans.

Weiss said he planned to visit California to meet with Stengel after attending the meeting of major league executives next week in Phoenix.

Devine, outlining future policy, said he would think the Mets would deal any pitcher on the staff, including Galen Cisco, Al Jackson and Tracy Stallard, if they could fill one or two regular positions. He mentioned center field and third base as the holes he would like to have filled.

Devine and Eddie Stanky came to the Mets' front office from St. Louis, and Johnny Keane switched from managing the Cards to the Yankees.

NWU To Risk 5-0 Record

. . . FINAL HOME GAME

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

Four seniors will be playing their final home game for Nebraska Wesleyan tonight, as the Plainsmen risk their perfect 5-0 record against homecoming foe William Jewell at O. N. Magee Stadium.

The four are quarterback Mike Slatinsky, defensive end Daryl Pearson, linebacker John Kerrey, and halfback Jeff Bogue.

Slatinsky's running and passing abilities may be sorely missed next season.

The 5-10, 190-pound senior from St. Charles, Ill., led the Plainsmen to their finest season in years in 1963, (7-2), picking up honors as the top rusher (303), and passer (44-122 for 644 yards and 10 touchdowns), for Wesleyan.

This season he promises to surpass his '63 totals, leading in passing and total offense, while his 285 yards rushing put him second only to halfback Bill Rohrig's 325, after five games.

Slatinsky has passed 78 times so far this year, completing 39 of them. His aerial skills have netted 602 yards for the Plainsmen.

His 285 yards on the ground, and 602 in the air bring his total offensive yardage to 887.

The Plainsmen are after their 10th straight victory tonight against the Cardinals from Liberty, Mo.

Nebraska Wesleyan closed the season in '63 with four consecutive victories, and have a string of five so far this year.

The only other Nebraska college to face the Cardinals this season, Wayne State, found the venture rewarding, as the Wildcats shut out the Missouri team, 12-0.

But the Cardinals, who run out of the single wing formation, can not be taken lightly by the Plainsmen.

Tailback Jack Patterson is a threat both in running and passing, leading the Cardinals in both departments as well as in scoring with 30 points.

Fullback Dan Marcum adds power to the William Jewell attack, striking for 280 yards on 56 carries.

The Cardinals' top passcatcher is Charlie Case. Case has snared seven passes for 175 yards so far this year, including three TDs.

It will be the first start for the Plainsmen in two weeks, taking last week off to brush up for tonight's contest.

Kearney took over sole possession of the Nebraska College Conference lead last Saturday, with a 30-20 triumph over the Hastings Broncos, and then won the conference championship with a 48-7 romp over Peru Thursday night.

Saturday's game featured a whirlwind finish, sparked by Doug Martin's 58-yard punt return for the Antelopes. Kearney had to come from behind, scoring twice in the last two minutes of play to get the victory.

Thursday Bill Backes and Neil Kaup aided the Antelopes to the repeat championship, Backes scoring three touchdowns, and Kaup throwing for two.

Hastings, now 2-1 in the NCC, goes to Wayne, also 2-1, Saturday in a battle which could decide second place.

In the Tri-State Conference, Westmar, 3-1, of Iowa, is at Blair for a battle with Dana, 1-3, and Northwestern, Iowa, 3-1, goes to Midland, 3-2.

In another NCC game Saturday, Wayne stopped Chadron, 39-14. The Wildcats scored the first time they got possession of the ball en route to the win.

Chadron fumbled on the first play, Wayne recovered and on the next play Burt Matthies went 34 yards into the end zone.

At Fremont, sophomore Art Oliver scored four times as Midland smothered Sioux Falls of South Dakota, 33-13.

Oliver ran two and 22 yards to the end zone, and was on the receiving end of two scoring passes from Lon Allen, one good for 36 yards and the other for 24.

Oliver also pitched to Jon Davis for another touchdown on a 34-yard play.

Cross Country Run Set For Seacrest Saturday

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Thirty-five teams and 199 individuals, survivors of district meets last week, will compete in the state high school cross country championships at the Seacrest Field course Saturday morning.

The Class C event, which could produce the tightest race in the team competition, is scheduled first. The favorite is defending champion Bayard, sparked by Frank Turja.

Turja is seeking his third straight individual crown, having won the Class B title as a sophomore and the Class C title as a junior.

Hebron, easy winner of the Lincoln district title, looms as the chief threat to Bayard with Cambridge, the district winner at Kearney, also in contention.

A new champion is assured in Class B as Gering, the 1963 winner, makes its bid in Class A this year. Holdrege and Superior, who shared district honors at Kearney, are co-favorites.

Other district champions figured to be prominent in the team race are Imperial, Elkhorn St. John and Ainsworth.

Omaha South, 1963 champion, failed to escape district competition and the favorite's role in Class A goes to 1963 runnerup Alliance, which boasts a veteran team.

Elliott Evans, the Bishop Ryan distance ace, is expected to set the pace in the individual race after finishing fourth last year.

Each of the teams which qualified in district competition will enter five-man squads in the state meet.

Nineteen individuals—five in Class A, seven in Class B and seven in Class C — also qualified for the state meet. These runners will be entered strictly for individual honors and their points will not count against the other teams in the team totals.

The team entry list:

Class A

Alliance, Gering, Kearney, Hastings, Lincoln High, Fremont, Columbus, Boys Town, Omaha Central, Bishop Ryan, Omaha North, Omaha Westside.

Class B

Imperial, Ogallala, Holdrege, Superior, St. Paul, Elkhorn St. John, Ralston, Ashland, Ainsworth, Crofton, Bloomfield, Wayne.

Class C

Bayard, Morrill, Cambridge, Wood River, Marquette, Hebron, Omaha St. Joseph, Lincoln University, Creighton, Bassett, Spalding.

LSE Crowns Homecoming King, Queen

Lincoln Southeast high schools elected its Homecoming Royalty at the annual homecoming dance Thursday night.

The King is Dale Guilford, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Guilford. Dale is a tackle on the Southeast football team.

The Queen is Linda Olmstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olmstead. At Southeast, Linda is a member of National Honor Society, and is active in Knightettes.

Huskers Get Friday Off; Drills End

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska completed on the field preparations Thursday for Saturday's Big Eight test with Missouri before an anticipated full house of 48,500 at NU Memorial Stadium.

Husker coach Bob Devaney sent his charges through a light drill Thursday, then announced that no workout would be held Friday.

"We've been going pretty steady," Devaney said in calling off the usual pre-game workout Friday. "We're a little tired and we feel it would be better to give them the day off."

However, a squad meeting will be held Friday afternoon to go over Saturday's game plans.

Devaney said Thursday he planned no lineup changes from the units that have started the last several Husker games.

Saturday's contest pits the Big Eight lineman of the week against the Big Eight back of the week for the past week in Nebraska end Mike Grace and Missouri quarterback Gary Lane.

Missouri plans a workout in Columbia before flying to Lincoln at 2:30.

McCloughan Top Scorer

Husker halfback Ken McCloughan has taken over the nation's scoring lead with nine touchdowns and a two-point conversion for 56 points, figures released Thursday by the NCAA Service Bureau revealed.

McCloughan's 56 puts him one ahead of Tulsa pass catcher Howard Twilley, the leader until this week. Twilley, a favorite target of quarterback Jerry Rhome, was stopped just two yards short of a touchdown as the gun sounded Saturday after he took a pass from the Tulsa quarterback.

McCloughan's nine touchdowns is also tops in the nation in that department. Four gridders have scored eight TDs.

New Scouts For Mets

New York (AP) — The New York Mets added Ollie Vanek and Charley Frey, formerly with the St. Louis Cardinals, to their scouting staff Thursday.

Don Meredith Remains A Determined Player

. . . DESPITE JEERS, INJURIES

Dallas (AP)—They booed Don Meredith the day he had to check for new injuries after every down.

They came to cheer him the day he played with all those injuries and led the Dallas Cowboys to a 31-13 victory over St. Louis.

Which is the story of the grimly determined young man who has been quarterbacking for Dallas all its five years in the National Football League.

Meredith has a torn knee cartilage, torn tendons in the arch of his left foot, a sprained ankle on the other foot and a shoulder separation. Yet he has missed only one game this season. Then it was on orders of Coach Tom Landry.

That was at Cleveland when Meredith wanted Landry to send him in but the coach wanted him to rest. He couldn't have done any good anyway, Dallas already had lost the game.

"Gosh, it only hurts when I get hit," he said. "As soon as the game starts the old adrenalin starts to pump and I forget all about it.

"We have a good football team and I want to play on it as long as I can."

Because he hung in there, Meredith got an unexpected honor—he was named The Associated Press' Player of the Week in the NFL for his fine day against St. Louis last Sunday. He hit on 12 of 16 touchdown.

"It was a shock," he said, a trifle bewildered by the unexpected honor. "I thought a lot of guys played better than I did and the Dallas defense should have the credit for setting things up for me. Also, Frank Clarke caught all those passes and put me across."

But he liked it nevertheless and indicated it made up for those boos he got the day his errors kept Dallas from winning over New York.

Meredith said he didn't worry about the boos half as much as had Landry, who got pretty sore about it.

"Dallas has been mighty good to me," he explained. "And the words of encouragement and the nice things said about me far outnumber the few boos. I like to think that those folks just don't understand the National Football League, a tough place to play in and a place where you can make mistakes every minute."

He didn't talk about the injuries that have handicapped him when he tried to evade a pass rush or make a turn.

"A lot of guys have played with injuries," he said. "It's a way of life in the NFL."

Meredith broke onto the Dallas sports scene when he was the passing star of Southern Methodist. He was the first player signed by the Cowboys when they started in 1960.

All Deer Rifle Permits Issued

The Nebraska Game Commission said Thursday all deer permits for all rifle units have been issued.

The record of 18,400 permits include 18,250 for the the regular season, Nov. 7 through Nov. 15, and 150 for the special Valentine refuge hunt. Some 2,000 archery deer permits were issued.

The Commission said there are 292 turkey permits remaining for the Round Top late season and 173 for the Niobrara late hunt.

Husker Runners To Test Missouri

The Nebraska cross country team finishes its dual season against Misouri in Lincoln Saturday.

The meet, set for 11 a.m., will be run over the three-mile course adjacent to Seacrest Field, 70th and A Sts.

Now with a 3-1 record, the Huskers will go to the Big Eight cross country meet the following week in Manhattan, Kan.

Coaches Elect New Officers

Norfolk (UPI) — Kim Riley of Norfolk High School Thursday was named president of the Northeast Nebraska Coaches Association.

The Association was meeting in conjunction with the District 3 Teachers Conference here today.

Lyle Nannen of West Point Central Catholic was named secretary; James Jacobs of Madison, treasurer; and James Taylor of O'Neill, program chairman.

Veteran Goaltender Plante Denies Press Accusations

. . . CLAIMS HE WAS MISQUOTED

New York (AP)—Veteran goaltender Jacques Plante denied Thursday that he had pictured the New York Rangers as a dissension-riddled hockey team and that he had asked to be traded.

Plante, currently playing with the American Hockey League Baltimore Clippers, had been quoted by a New York newspaper as saying the Rangers were a "cheap organization" and that he would never play again for Ranger Coach Red Sullivan.

A jammed news conference heard Plante deny the charges one by one, claiming he had been misinterpreted and quoted out of context."

"I've been in hockey since 1947 and I've never knocked the game or any organization in it," Plante said. "The game has been my life. Why should I knock it?

"I never said I wouldn't play for Sullivan. I said I couldn't play for him right now because of my knee."

Plante was sent to Baltimore when the season started after complaining of an injured right knee. His injury, diagnosed as cartilage trouble, is being treated by the Clippers' team physician and, according to Plante, "improving with every game." Sullivan, who had been quoted as saying he wanted to trade Plante, denied that statement.

"I never said I wanted to trade Jacques," the coach explained, "I said I'd consider trading him."

Plante said he was glad, when he was dealt to the Rangers a year ago last June "and I'm still glad to be with the organization. I hope to stay with them after my playing days are over."

"I said I was happy playing in Baltimore and that's true. I'm happy because I'm able to play," Plante added.

Plante said that, although his knee was improving, he was not ready to play in the National League.

"I'm playing good hockey, but there's still some pain in the knee," he said.

A six-time Vezina Trophy winner and winner of the Hart Trophy as the league's most valuable player three years ago, Plante was traded to New York by Montreal in a seven-player swap in June 1963.

Ironically, Gump Worsley, the goalie the Rangers gave up in the trade to get Plante, is also playing in the American League. Worsley is the netminder for the unbeaten Quebec Aces, a Montreal farm team.

Nicklaus Gets Bad Start

Sydney, Australia (AP) — America's Jack Nicklaus, a hot pretournament favorite, got off to a bad start Thursday in the Australian Open Golf Championship and trailed a little-known Australian pro, John Sullivan, by five strokes after the first round of the 72-hole tournament.

Nicklaus, the Columbus, Ohio, strongman, tied for second place behind South Africa's Cobie Legrange last week in the Wills Masters tournament, his first appearance in Australia.

Thursday Nicklaus birdied the first hole on the 6,618-yard Lakes course and went out in par 35 but took a 40 coming back for 75. He suffered a near-disaster on the 355-yard 16th hole, where he skied his drive into a lake and took a triple bogey seven.

Sullivan, a pro from Adelaide, shot a 70 to lead another Australian, Ted Ball by one stroke. He apparently wasn't bothered by the strong winds and tricky greens that disturbed some other players.

Bob Charles, the New Zealand left-hander, and Australia's Bruce Devlin, both of whom have been playing on the American pro circuit, shot 72s and Frank Phillips and John Kelly of Australia had 73s.

Legrange was one stroke behind Nicklaus after four-putting the sixth hole, three-putting the 15th and hitting the water at the 16th.

Another American pro, Ron Howell of Rockville, Md., was far behind with 79.

Omaha (UPI) — Three million acre feet of water—with a retail value of some $16 million—flowed from Nebraska during the April floods of 1960, Warren D. Fairchild, executive secretary of the state soil and water conservation commission said here Wednesday.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Nebraska section of the American Waterworks Association, Fairchild said the water lost from the 1960 flooding could have supplied the total water needs of Lincoln for 12 years.

"If the water had been suitable for delivery through city water mains, it would have had a retail value of approximately $16,100,000," Fairchild said.

The same three million acre feet of water would have supplied about one foot of water to each acre of irrigated land in Nebraska, he added.

Fairchild spoke on long-range planning for soil and water conservation. The meeting of the state section of the association ends Friday.

World Responsibility Stressed By Speakers

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

"Education for World Responsibility" was emphasized by two featured speakers Thursday at the opening session of the District 1 meeting of the Nebraska State Education Assn.

Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels, professor of anthropology at New York University School of Education, told the classroom teachers the most difficult task of today is "to turn and look at our way of life and examine the values of our nation."

"World leadership and responsibility don't start in Washington or in our state capitols, but in our hearts and souls," she said.

She noted the importance of recognizing change, pointing out that the public schools suffer from "our looking with longing toward the good old days of the past."

"The only constant thing in your life and mine is constant change. What is new is rapidity of change."

The only way youth may learn responsibility is for society to give them responsibility, she said.

Dr. Alpenfels emphasized that transfer of learning does not take place from facts alone — but from attitudes, principles and concepts.

Dr. Robert Kazmayer, editor and publisher of a businessmen's news letter and world traveler, pointed to five forces which are creating change.

—Population explosion.
—Knowledge explosion.
—The "Have-nots" against the "Haves."
—World War I and II elimination of great powers.
—Common Market.

"If we remain externally strong and internally sound, I don't think we'll ever see an all-out war, but we'll never know complete peace either," Dr. Kazmayer stated.

He criticized the failure of Americans to practice their values.

"America must be kept strong and be kept American. We must have a practicing faith."

In pointing to America's constant fight against Communism, Dr. Kazmayer said, "You can't fight a religion—no matter how bad it is — unless you have a religion of your own, and in order to fight a vision and a dream, we must have a greater vision and dream.

"The challenge of the classroom and the job of education is citizenship and responsibility in the world today," he concluded.

Burney Caravan To Visit Omaha

A "caravan for Burney" will leave Republican headquarters here at 9:30 a.m. Friday for a day of campaigning in Omaha, according to Jess Polson, vice chairman of Lancaster County Republicans.

The caravanners, workers for the election of republican Dwight Burney as governor, will lunch at the Paxton Hotel in Omaha with fellow Republican workers from Omaha, he said. Burney will address the group.

Beermann Blasts Regulation Rise

Republican Rep. Ralph Beermann Thursday called for a slowdown in the growth of what he termed a new branch of government, the regulatory branch, composed of 60 federal agencies.

"This regulatory branch not only regulates, but it investigates and it is particularly harassing to business, large or small," Beermann said in a statement.

He said he will continue the fight to stop the spread of government regulation of individual lives and business.

Accused Gives Self Up

Kenosha, Wis. (UPI)—Ester Lee Welch, 23, Racine, accused of the shooting of Albert Thomas, 32, in a Kensoha tavern, gave himself up.

Welch was charged with attempted first degree murder, and bail was set at $25,000.

FRIDAY IS FOR ALUMNI AT WESLEYAN

Friday is for alumni at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Beginning with registration in the morning and lasting until the coffees after the football game, all activities at Wesleyan will be devoted to stirring up nostalgia among old grads.

The big events are the Alumni Awards convocation at 10:00 a.m. in the C. C. White Auditorium and the football game between NWU and William Jewell at 7:30 p.m.

Katherine Boeye Ward will speak at the morning convocation. A 1922 graduate of NWU, she has served most of her life as a missionary in the Orient.

Mrs. Ward, and Lawrence Miles, Schenectady, N.Y.; Col. Bruce Keith, Honolulu; Mary Champ Peckham, Omaha; and Virginia Cotton Stoltz, Watertown, S.D. will receive special alumni awards at the convocation.

An alumni coffee is planned for 2:30 p.m. and an association meeting is set for 3:30 p.m. in Huntington Hall in C. C. White.

Homecoming displays by fraternity and sorority houses and other campus organizations will be in place for viewing by 5:30 p.m.

Half-time of the football game features the NWU band performing old school songs, winding up with the "Sweetheart of Wesleyan U" as the W-Club Sweetheart is revealed.

Fraternities and sororities will hold open house after the game and non-affiliated alums will be guests of the school at a coffee in the campus center.

Homecoming activities officially conclude Saturday night with the Homecoming Dance in Ira Taylor gym.

Game Group Considering Site Near Ft. Robinson

State Game Commission Director M. O. Steen said Thursday the commission is considering the purchase of a 10,000 acre ranch in Dawes County for development as a state park.

The ranch, owned by Bob James of Marathon, Fla., is located between Ft. Robinson Wood Reserve property and the main Ft. Robinson land on Soldier Creek.

"It's under consideration," Steen said. "There's nothing further that I can comment on about it."

James, who is visiting the ranch, said he has talked to Steen about the possibility of negotiating with the game commission for the property.

Thone Thinks Outlook Too Often Ignored

"Nebraska has a natural asset that is too often ignored—its outlook," Charles Thone said Thursday.

"People and industry like to go where the environment is wholesome and forward-looking, where they feel the opportunity for the future is good," the Republican lieutenant governor nominee said.

The state's future economic growth may depend on promoting this and other assets, Thone said.

Colwell: Funds From Friends And Party

Grand Island—William Colwell of Hay Springs, Democratic candidate for Third District congressman, said Thursday that he has had no financial help from any source other than personal friends, former business or farming associates, relatives and the Democratic Party at both the state and national levels.

Colwell, who opposes Rep David Martin, said that his opponent had suggested that he was receiving help from James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

Colwell also said Thursday, in a conference telephone call to news media, that he has received a telegram from President Johnson thanking the Nebraska Democratic Agriculture Committee and the County Democratic Agricultural Committees for the recommendations they sent to the president October 10.

Colwell said that the recommendations included endorsing the beef export council, favoring the continuation of some type of voluntary agricultural programs, especially on wheat and feed grains, and in urging continued use of advisory committees to the United States Secretary of Agriculture.

IT'S MUCH TOO SMALL!

MUCH TOO SMALL! This little fella and Lancaster County are facing the same problem. Not enough room to satisfy their growth spurts. The only difference—our growing boy outgrew his clothes just recently. But, the County has been outfitted the same since the 1880's. Same building...same space problems—for years.

A $2.6 MILLION BOND ISSUE FOR A NEW LANCASTER COUNTY BUILDING will appear on the general election ballot November 3. The vote will determine whether the County will be allowed to issue up to $2.6 million in general obligation bonds to acquire additional land in the vicinity of 10th and J Streets and construct and equip a new County Building and jail.

THE LAND TO BE USED is the present Courthouse block between 9th and 10th, J to K, and the block south of the Courthouse. This land area is already 90% County-owned. Based on proposed plans, this two-square-block area is sufficient for a building three times the capacity of the present building, with more than ample parking facilities.

Based on a recent space study, THE COUNTY PRESENTLY REQUIRES AT LEAST 90,000 SQUARE FEET for its operations, as compared to the 38,384 square feet it now has. Thirteen departments have been seriously hampered in their functions because of lack of space. And, three County departments must be housed outside the Courthouse—at an additional expense of $1,485 per month.

In addition, maintenance and operating expenses on the deteriorating building have been exorbitant. In 1963, these expenses totaled $23,298.46...entirely too much!

THE PRESENT COUNTY JAIL WAS BUILT IN 1874, and, in 1902, WAS ALREADY OUTDATED. It was condemned for federal prisoners 50 years ago, and it has been condemned by the fire marshall since 1951. It demands constant repairs. The jail has no hospital facilities for women prisoners and does not have individual cells for habitual offenders.

Every County department has outgrown its facilities... every County department is "clothed" in outdated surroundings.

THE COUNTY NEEDS A NEW "OUTFIT."

Effective December 1, 1964, Consumers Public Power District and the City Light Department will reduce the kilowatt-hour rate for electric heat to one and one-quarter cents (1.25c) for all Lincoln customers who heat electrically.

The previous rates were already among the lowest in the nation. The new low rate, possible because of efficient generating and distributing operations, makes electric heat even more economical for the people of Lincoln.

The late William Allen White became known as the sage of Emporia with his fearless editorials in the Emporia, Kansas Gazette. Editor W. L. White carries on the family tradition. The following excerpts from Mr. White's editorial of August 18, 1964 present an issue for the voters that cannot be dodged. This editorial says:

"...Various publications are probing into the Lyndon Johnson family. Before Mr. Johnson ran for Congress, this family could be accounted poor in the goods of this world. But during his terms as a Congressman, as a Senator and as Vice President, a small sum inherited by his wife has been parlayed up to a fortune estimated at as low as $7 million by the Washington 'Star', and as high as $14 million, according to 'Life' magazine.

"...The important thing, however, is that most if not all of this fortune seems to have been made not only while Lyndon Johnson was a public servant, but because he was a public servant. He seems to have been serving himself at least as generously as he served the public.

"...If a man used public office to get financial favors to himself, then by any definition, this is corruption. And on this definition he is the most corrupt man ever to have entered the White House in my time."

New Look At Marriage, Birth Control Is Wanted

Vatican City (AP)—In a major turning point of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, cardinals and bishops spoke out forcefully Thursday for a searching new look at Roman Catholic theology on marriage and birth control.

"Modern science may well have much to tell us," said Leo Jozef Cardinal Suenens of Brussels, Belgium. "There is nothing to prevent the church from making a thorough inquiry. . . There are no grounds for being afraid."

Paul Emile Cardinal Leger of Montreal, Canada, touched directly on the question of Catholic prohibition against artificial contraception in saying:

Light of Marriage

"Fecundity (fruitful childbearing) must be looked upon in the light of the married state, not in connection with every individual act (of sexual intercourse by married couples). . .

"We need clear principles, avoiding that fear of conjugal love which has pervaded so many moral theology tracts."

Patriarch Maximos IV Saigh of Antioch, Turkey, spoke of a grave crisis in the Catholic conscience, with many couples practicing birth control despite church law.

"The authority of the church (on procreation and contraception) has been called into question on a vast scale. . . Frankly, the official position of the church on this matter should be revised on the basis of modern theological, medical, psychological and sociological science."

The Eastern patriarch said new thinking was needed on positions that might be outmoded, "perhaps due to a bachelor psychosis on the part of individuals unacquainted with this sector of life."

Other prelates also urged a fearless birth control study by the church as the council debated its document on modern world problems, ranging from international peace to the population explosion.

Loudest Applause

Several council fathers said Cardinal Suenens received the most thunderous applause from the 2,000 prelates that any speaker has been given in the council session.

"Those three speeches today (Suenens, Leger and Saigh) represent a turning point," said a moral theologian attached to the council. "Rethinking the church's position and teaching on marriage problems was for a time considered beyond anyone's even daring to suggest it."

Several prelates who spoke Thursday praised the modern-problems schema for avoiding the traditional Catholic terminology of primary and secondary purposes of marriage.

No Distinction

The church has long specified that procreation and education of children are the prime ends of marriage, with conjugal love and its mutual fulfillment secondary. The text does not make such a distinction.

"Human conjugal love involves both soul and body, is something good in itself and something having its own characteristics and law," said Cardinal Leger.

Cardinal Suenens said insistence on the biblical command to increase and multiply may have caused the church to forget "that the other passage that husband and wife 'become two in one flesh' is also contained in revelation and thus equally divine in origin. We still have much to learn."

Budget Boost Loss Charged To Stromer

Lawson Chadwick of Lincoln, legislative candidate from the 27th District, Thursday criticized his opponent, Sen. Marvin E. Stromer, for not voting in the 1963 session on a request by the four state colleges for additional funds.

"The record shows that Nebraska's four state colleges lost out in an attempt to have their budgets boosted to meet what they considered their needs. Stromer just couldn't take the time to vote on the question," Chadwick charged.

He said it is "impossible for the voter to know just where Stromer stands on the issue of adequate finance for Nebraska's higher education. His record is spotty at best, and fouled up at worst."

Chadwick said his own position is that higher education "is not only a challenge to Nebraskans, but a necessity," and said he "would support any bill which would improve the status of our colleges and our university on a fiscally sound basis.

"Rest assured, I wouldn't fail to vote just because an issue is controversial," he said.

Stock Mart Returns To Even Keel

New York (AP)—The stock market Thursday came back to an even keel after the sharp selloff of the previous session.

Trading slowed, with volume at 4.39 million shares compared with 4.92 million Wednesday.

Popular stock market averages rose slightly and a few more stocks advanced than declined. The drop off in volume, however, gave the session an unconvincing flavor. Many market analysts said a real rally was not very likely until after election day uncertainties are removed.

Steels in early trading made a scattered recovery from their steep fall of the previous session, but most gains melted away by the close.

The top four steelmakers were all losers by the end and Jones & Laughlin fell 1¼. Wall Street was trying to assess the implications of President Johnson's reported concern over the possibility of steel price increases, a strong factor in the decline of Wednesday.

Bethlehem was off ⅝ in advance of its quarterly report which showed a gain in profits, just about in line with expectations.

U.S. Steel, whose quarterly earnings on Tuesday were a disappointment in the street, added a loss of ¼ to its fall of 2¼ on Wednesday.

Nevertheless, enough selective strength existed in the stock list to give final statistics a small plus.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose .70 to 871.86.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .4 to 330.0 with industrials up .4, rails up .5 and utilities up .1.

Of 1,350 issues traded, 544 rose and 553 fell. New highs for the year totaled 46 and new lows 12.

Chemicals, rubbers and rails were generally higher. A mixed pattern prevailed among motors, farm implements, airlines and oils. Aerospace issues and drugs declined.

Losers narrowly outnumbered gainers on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds advanced.

Bolivia Says Czechs Incite Riots, Breaks Ties

La Paz, Bolivia (AP)—Bolivia broke diplomatic relations with Communist Czechoslovakia Thursday night, accusing the Czech embassy of inciting anti-government riots that have raged here for days.

A communique said tin miners "perfectly armed with new weapons made in Czechoslovakia" took part in an attack on the mining center of Oruro earlier in the day.

President Victor Paz Estenssero sent troops there to put down the uprising.

Anti-government radio broadcasts said possibly 30 persons were killed in a clash on a highway near Oruro, 143 miles south of the capital. There was no confirmation from the government.

Two Killed

Two civilians were reported killed and 17 wounded in disorders in La Paz after demonstrators favoring and opposing the government collided in street fighting.

The communique said anti-government demonstrators in La Paz also were armed with Czechoslovakian weapons.

For a while student rebels held 12 persons, including four army officers, hostage behind campus barricades, but the students surrendered after troops were sent into action, the communique said.

Government buildings, the library and the newspaper La Nacion were attacked during the disorders, the communique added.

Paz has been in trouble ever since he had the constitution changed in 1961 so he could run for a third term as head of the nationalist revolutionary movement. All opposition parties boycotted this year's election.

Linked To Reds

The government said that the Czech embassy was linked to Bolivian Communists who officials charged instigated the riots.

The break was decided upon at a meeting of government leaders with Paz. Foreign Minister Fernado Iturralde said he would order the Czech envoy to leave the country.

Oruro stations held by rebellious tin miners said fighting broke out between advancing government troops and a force of miners and students on a road leading to the big Catavi tin mine.

$1.1 Million Jump In 1964 Fuel Tax

Pearle Finigan, state department of agriculture director, said Thursday fuel tax collections for 1964 are now $1,144,715 ahead of 1963 for the period Jan. 1 to Oct. 1.

"Tax collections in all categories during 1964 are ahead of 1963," Finigan said.

He said gasoline taxes alone rose from $36,340,366 from Jan. 1 to Oct. 1, 1963 to $37,222,791 for the same period of 1964.

France Voices Protest To Germany In MLF

Paris (UPI) — France has informed the United States that it strongly opposes West German participation in the planned allied Multilateral Nuclear Force (MLF), usually reliable diplomatic sources said Thursday.

A senior official of the French embassy in Washington delivered a verbal message to the State Department, it was said.

The message was said to have warned the United States that France considers the nuclear force "divisive" in its nature, liable to damage the NATO alliance and conducive toward splitting Germany from its European allies.

(In Washington, a French embassy spokesman flatly denied that France had expressed opposition to West German participation in the MLF.)

(But in Bonn, the West German capital, West German Parliament President Eugen Gerstenmaier — returning from high-level talks in Paris — said that high French officials indeed were opposed to the plan.)

The sources said the message did not imply what action, if any, France might take if the project goes through.

It was described as the DeGaulle government's toughest statement so far on the force.

De Gaulle turned down French participation as long ago as his news conference on Jan. 31 this year. But hitherto he has not voiced strong objections to the prospect itself or to German participation.

But French officials noted a marked stiffening of De Gaulle's whole attitude toward the mixed-manned project in the past week.

His objections were conveyed to West German Foreign Affairs State Secretary Carl Carstens by French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville in talks here last Saturday.

For sensible spending and balanced budgets

As a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Senator Roman Hruska has been effective in eliminating some of the waste and duplication in federal spending. Roman Hruska has consistently fought for balanced budgets because he knows that when government spends more than it takes in, it causes inflation and weakens our nation.

Warden Asks 11% Boost On 2-Year Budget

The state penal complex Thursday asked a $5,148,191 appropriation for the coming biennium.

The request is 11% more than the complex's current two-year allotment of $4,649,596.

Maurice Sigler, warden of the complex, called the budget "an austere one, realistically submitted on the basis of actual existing needs to sustain the present operation at the existing level of efficiency."

Sigler said most of the increase is for upgrading salaries and increasing the facilities for vocational training at the complex.

Among other salary increases, Sigler requests that the base pay for guards, correction officers, lieutenants, and the captain of the guard be raised.

Last June, $40,000 in additional funds were assigned to the penal complex for salaries after Sigler said qualified employees couldn't be retained at the existing pay scale.

Violent Explosion At Nitroglycerin Plant Kills Eight

Gyttorp, Sweden (AP)—At least eight persons were killed and 10 were injured Thursday in a violent explosion at the nitroglycerin plant in this community about 150 miles west of Stockholm.

Two buildings, where workers were handling dynamite, were destroyed in the thus far unexplained blast in the factory, founded in 1864 by Alfred Nobel. The plant now employs 700 persons.

It is Sweden's biggest producer of explosives and ammunition. The accident was the fourth fatal and biggest so far in the 100 years of production.

The blast occurred only minutes before the names of this year's physics Nobel Prize winners were announced in Stockholm.

The explosion was so violent that windows were reported broken in towns 15 miles away.

All For Fido

Ostersund, Sweden (AP) — The city council has decided to build a dogs' room in a downtown park. It is to be a 5-by-5-foot sandbox with a stone pillar centered, and it will have a sign saying "for your friend the dog." Nine more are being considered.

Men 'Shopping' In Parking Lot Held On Charge

Police received a report of two men going through cars in a parking lot near 9th and M, Wednesday afternoon.

The men were lodged in jail on an open charge.

If Cambodians Shoot, Yanks To Fire Back

Washington (AP)—The Pentagon's top spokesman indicated Thursday that U.S. planes would fire back if fired upon again by Cambodian forces.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester told reporters that U.S. military planes operate under orders to protect themselves, and that these orders apply everywhere.

Sylvester said a U.S. C123 plane shot down early this week had "inadvertently" crossed the Cambodian border from South Viet Nam. Eight American airmen died.

The Pentagon's spokesman said U.S. pilots are directed to avoid that border.
